Landlords Warring On Marin's Children?

By WAT TAKESHITA

A warning was sounded last night before the Marin County Human Rights Commission that there is a trend throughout Marin to drive families with children out of rented apartments. (Another rights commission story, page 3.)

The matter came to a head last night when two Tiburon residents appealed to the commission for protection against what they called "this discrimination."

Rents at Tiburon View Apartments are being raised from $185 to $275 per month beginning April 1 because the landlord wants to oust all children, the residents told the comission. And children, they said, means anyone under 21.

And this is not an isolated case but is happening throughout the county, declared Austin J. Thompson, executive director of the Human Rights Commission, and his staff member, Ursula Gealey.

"What is happening is that the middle class is being phased out of the county," warned Thompson. "We are becoming a county of the rich and the poor."

On a motion by the Rev. Francis Geddes, commissioners voted 7 to 0 to shoot a letter to the landlords, Sidney and Charles Schonfeld of San Francisco, to seek a conference "so that this injustice can be corrected."

Commissioners also asked for a legal study by the county counsel and by the Marin County Board of Supervisors to see what can be done to prevent exorbitant rent increases.

The two residents who complained were Clinton L. Mosher, former political editor of the San Francisco Examiner; and Edward G. Navarro, who works for a stevedore company in San Francisco.

Both live with their families at 4 Circle Drive in Tiburon.

Mosher and Navarro said they were notified on March 1 by apartment manager Dorothy Webb that the rents for families with children will go up by $75 on April 1. They then got a notification in the mail that the raise would be $90.

Mosher said he asked for the name of the landlord but Mrs. Webb refused, saying, "If I told you, it would cost me my job." Mosher made a title search and learned that the landlord is a corporation called Continental Lodge, with the Schonfelds as the principals.

Mosher lives there with his wife and 12-year-old son. Navarro has an 18-year-old son and a 14-year old daughter, who will be graduating this June from high school and junior high school, respectively.

Anyone under 21 years old is considered a child, said Mosher. "This is discrimination by age, it's harassment. Never in my life have I met a situation of this kind."

Mosher said a third family at the apartments faces an even worse rent raise. "A young man and a wife and child live directly above us. On Feb. 28 they were notified the rent would be

Richardson Bay Plan Under Fire

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Marin County's controversial "specific plan" for development of Richardson Bay was attacked yesterday by major conservation groups as contrary to the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission's own plan for the bay.

The Marin plan's provision that would allow each property owner to fill up to 40 per cent of his existing open water would allow the filling of 54.7 acres in Richardson Bay, charged Dwight Steele of Tiburon, representing the Sierra Club.

Hans Feibusch of San Francisco, a former BCDC commissioner speaking for the Save San Francisco Bay Association, argued that the Marin plan would set a precedent that would force filling of 40 square miles of the bay.

Their opposition to the plan came in the BCDC's second hearing on it this month. Two weeks ago, the commission was swamped with 566 postcards, letters and telegrams opposing the Marin plan.

But after almost an hour and a half of hearing the plan yesterday, commission chairman Melvin B. Lane of Menlo Park continued the plan for further hearing to 2 p.m. on April 2 in the State Building, 455 Golden Gate Avenue.

More than a dozen hands shot up in the audience when Lane asked how many wished to speak on the plan next time.

Endorsing the plan yesterday was Ray Smith of the Marin County Planning Department, who argued that the 12-story high-rise buildings provided in the plan "would be in scale with the Richardson Bay Bridge and the hills in the background."

19 Killed In Hotel Blaze; Arson Probe

SEATTLE (AP) — An early morning fire at the Ozark Hotel here killed at least 19 persons, and Mayor Wes Uhlman said after meeting with fire and police officials that the blaze appeared to have been "intentionally set."

It was the city's second most disastrous fire in regard to the number of persons killed. Firemen searching through smoking rubble said others also may have perished in the blaze.

Uhlman said the indication of arson was based on "fires that began almost simultaneously in the hotels' two main stairways."

He also said teams of fire officials had been making night checks of hotels after "receiving information from federal sources . . . that there was a developing pattern of fires in downtown hotels."

The mayor ordered an immediate investigation to determine what kinds of material were used "to set the fire."

There were 617 arson fires in Seattle last year, according to fire department officials.

One tenant, Grace Chambers, 69, was injured critically when she jumped through a window pane and plunged from the third floor.

Two fire fighters also were hurt.

The blaze was the worst fire disaster in Seattle since a military plane crashed into the Fry Packing Co. in 1943.

Supervisors Think Zucker Should Resign County Job

At least three members of the Marin County Board of Supervisors think Paul C. Zucker should resign as county planning director since he has filed as a candidate for supervisor. (See also story, page 5.)

Zucker said on filing that he planned to ask for a leave of absence from his $22,200-per-year county job during the last part of the campaign before the June 2 primary.

Before leaving for a planning conference in San Diego which Zucker also is attending, Supervisor Michael Wornum said he planned to suggest to Zucker that he resign.

"I would go along with that," said Supervisor William A. Gnoss today. "For the benefit of the public and as a gentleman, I think he should submit his resignation. If he has any honor for the rest of us (on the board of supervisors), that's what he should do."

Supervisor Louis H. Baar said: "If the man has the courage of his convictions, he should resign. He shouldn't expect the board to keep him as planning director while he publicly attacks the board in campaigning for office."

Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni was out of the county and could not be reached.

CAUGHT IN THE MIDDLE

While anti-war demonstrators blocked the entrance to the Army Induction Center in Albany, N. Y., yesterday, a man reporting to the office had to make a flying leap as he left the federal building. About 15 of the young people involved were arrested. It was one of several sit-ins yesterday across the nation. Nearly all of the confrontations were nonviolent.

Natalie G. Lewis, longtime resident of Ross, has resigned from the Ross Town Council, effective April 1, because she will be moving to Nicasio.

Mrs. Lewis submitted her resignation yesterday and Mayor Frederick S. Allen called a special council session April 2 to appoint a successor.

Five Spar For Leake Board Seat

A hot race for the State Board of Equalization seat being vacated by long-time incumbent Paul R. Leake of Yolo County developed today with the last-minute filing of five candidates for the $25,000-a-year seat.

Filing nomination papers were former Marin supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen and Raymond E. Paschke of Santa Rosa, both as candidates in the Republican primary.

Taking out nomination papers for the Democratic primary was William M. Bennett of Kent Woodlands, former deputy attorney general and member of the state Public Utilities Commission.

Also filing were former state treasurer Bert A. Betts and Henry R. Tweith, Sutter County newspaper publisher, both for the Democratic nomination. Betts, 46, was treasurer under former Gov. Edmund G. Brown. Tweith, 45, publishes the Independent-Herald in Yuba City.

Kettenhofen, 52, was a supervisor from 1964 to 1968, when he was defeated by Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. He is chairman of the board of governors of the California Maritime Academy, president of the Marin Foundation and the Marin County Senior

Nationwide Mail Tieup Threatens

Congress Won't Budge

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Association of Letter Carriers said today their postal strike will extend nationwide on Monday, unless Congress commits itself to action on pay raise and reform bills.

"There will be a total national strike," union President James H. Rademacher told 300 cheering local officials in Washington.

After vainly urging the strikers to return to work, Rademacher said: "Our members have not they will not, listen to us as long as their heart-felt grievances are not met."

The illegal strike of mail carriers that has halted deliveries throughout the New York metropolitan area spread westward today—as far as St. Paul, Minn., and Chicago.

(In San Rafael, Postmaster Hugh A. Cassidy said mail addressed to areas affected by the strike was being stored at the San Rafael Post Office.

SAN FRANCISCO CALLS

(And in San Francisco, workers in three of the city's some 50 postal installations began calling in sick, apparently in sympathy with the strike. Postal authorities, however, said deliveries were being maintained.)

Among the new outbreaks today were walkouts in Cleveland, Detroit, Philadelphia, and Milwaukee.

As the strike spread, the mushrooming effects on government and industry reached across the nation. Tons of undelivered mail piled up everywhere, affecting 20 million people.

FRANTIC SEARCH

Stockbrokers, manufacturers, mail order houses and others with nationwide business sought frantically for alternate ways of making deliveries, communicating with clients or meeting payrolls.

Planes and trucks were enlisted to carry special bulk lots of mail. Telephone, telegraph and messenger services were heavily burdened by the lack of mail service.

And in Washington, Post-

HOUSE SENDS SEASHORE FUNDING BILL TO NIXON

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A $38 million authorization bill for acquisition of land at the Point Reyes National Seashore in California was passed by the House last night and sent to the White House.

The House, on a voice vote and without discussion, accepted a Senate amendment which permitted government condemnation of dairy ranches in the 53,000-acre park.

The new authorization would raise the spending ceiling for the seashore to $57.5 million with the actual money to come in a separate appropriations bill.

Span Panel Proposes Bus Commuter Clubs

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

Formation of 80 bus commuter clubs, subsidized by the Golden Gate Bridge District to provide amenities such as coffee and newspapers, was recommended yesterday by a committee of district directors. (Other bridge district stories, page 19)

The clubs, an expansion of others already run privately from Marinwood and Novato, would be designed to lure commuters from their cars by assuring them seating and "a basically door-to-door service on a time schedule tailored to the particular group's needs," said the district's engineer, Robert E. Shields.

The clubs would give commuters better bus service almost a year faster than it will take the district to operate its own buses, and would reduce the number of buses the district needs from about 130 to about 70. This would cut capital requirements to about $3 million, well within the district's current funds, Shields said.

The proposal, presented to the joint transportation and finance-auditing committee, won immediate approval with almost no discussion after Shields said the deadline to seek a federal grant for the proposal was April 1. The committee's recommendation will go to the full board at 10 a.m. next Friday in toll plaza offices.

Shields proposed a three-

Sausalito Trustees Recall Vote Tentatively June 2

A recall election against Sausalito School District trustees David E. Freedheim and Martha Freebairn-Smith has been tentatively set for June 2, according to Lyle Wright, curriculum associate with the Marin County Schools office.

Both recall petitions, filed Tuesday with County Schools Supt. Virgil S. Hollis by the Sausalito Citizens for Excellence in Integrated Education, contain enough valid signatures of registered voters in the district to initiate the recall, Peter Meyer of the county elections office said today.

The petition calling for recall of Freedheim contained 1,077 valid signatures of the 1,181 collected and the petition for Mrs. Freebairn-Smith's recall had 1,078 valid signatures of 1,187 collected, Meyer said.

There are 4,366 registered voters in the Sausalito School District, according to Meyer, who said signatures of 20 percent of 873 voters were required to qualify a recall petition.

Wright said the county counsel's office is drawing up official papers to set the recall election date. If the election is held June 2, candidates for the school district board will have until April 9 to file for the two posts being challenged, he said.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Soviet Advisers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Between 4,000 and 5,000 Soviet military advisers are now stationed in Egypt where they work as everything from fliers and engineers to rocket and radar experts, according to U.S. government sources.

The pilots train Egyptian fliers and, in some cases, fly reconnaissance missions themselves over the Mediterranean in Russian-made planes with Egyptian markings, U.S. sources said Thursday.

The engineers are said to be working on SAM-3 surface-to-air missiles reported to have arrived recently.

Cigarette Ban

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has completed congressional action and sent to the President a bill banning cigarette advertising on radio and television beginning next Jan. 2.

The measure, which passed the House Wednesday and the Senate Thursday, also requires cigarette manufacturers to print the following message on cigarette packages beginning six months after the bill is signed:

"Warning: The surgeon general says cigarette smoking is dangerous to your health." The current warning, first required five years ago, says: "Caution: Cigarette smoking may be hazardous to your health."

The bill also bars states from imposing stricter regulations and it bars the Federal Trade Commission from requiring that warnings be included in print advertising of cigarettes until July 1, 1971.

Cuban Pitch

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, says restoring diplomatic relations with Cuba would be to the advantage of both the United States and the Caribbean country.

The Arkansas Democrat said Thursday he discussed the matter Wednesday with the Spanish ambassador who described relations between Spain and Cuba and said he thought such contact would be useful to the United States too.

Fulbright said Thursday he has felt that way for a long time.

Chavez Hit

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Proceedings against the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee because of its table grape boycott campaign have been authorized by the National Labor Relations Board .

The union, led by Cesar Chavez, is accused of secondary boycotting, a violation under the Taft-Hartly Act, it was reported Thursday.

Action against last summer's picketing of Safeway supermarkets has been approved by the general counsel for the NLRB in Washington. This was confirmed by the regional NLRB office in San Francisco and an attorney for one of the grape growers.

An NLRB spokesman said the first step would be to seek agreements from the unions not to engage in secondary boycotts.

Tornado Deaths

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI)— Torrential rains and a tornado lashed Alabama Thursday night, causing at least four deaths and sending more than 1,000 persons fleeing their homes ahead of floodwaters.

Waters from swollen creeks licked at Birmingham from three sides today and residents of Tuscaloosa and Northport apprehensively watched the Black Warrior River rise toward a crest 20 feet above flood stage.

A storm system that moved across the state dumped six inches of rain on Birmingham and 9.4 inches on Gorgas in Tuscaloosa County, pushing rivers and creeks over their banks.

A tornado swooped on the community of Shawmut near Lanett Thursday night, killing Bookie Ware, a teen-ager, and injuring eight others it destroyed Drew Junior High School and damaged a number of homes.

College Trek

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — A soft ocean breeze wafting across Fort Lauderdale's beach carried an unmistakable aroma of suntan lotion, fragrant evidence of the city's annual college kid invasion.

On the sand Thursday hundreds of bikini clad co-eds soaked up the sun—and the admiration of the boys.

More than 2,000 kids were on the beach. They are the forerunners of the some 15,000 expected to pour into the city by Easter Sunday.

At Daytona Beach, 250 miles up Florida's East Coast, officials said only a handful of kids were on the beach Thursday. But they said they expected the influx to begin this weekend and estimated as many as 50,000 would visit area beaches by Easter.

Ocean Gloom

WASHINGTON (AP) — Warning of the end of productive ocean life within 50 years, Sen. Gaylord Nelson said today remaining oil deposits should be withheld from development until the environment can be protected from the massive spills that have often accompanied their reaction.

The Wisconsin Democrat proposed the creation of a National Oil Resource Trust to hold in abeyance development of deposits under the ocean and in Alaska pending the development of foolproof drilling technology.

to contain the oil from a major ocean or Arctic oil accident, Nelson said.

Goldberg Hat In Ring For Governor?

NEW YORK (UPI)—Former U.N. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg, who said in December he would not seek elective office, announced Thursday he was available for the Democratic nomination for governor of New York.

The one-time Secretary of Labor and Supreme Court justice said his acceptance was contingent upon his receiving the support of the majority of the delegates at the April 1 meeting of the state Democratic committee.

Goldberg, 61, scheduled a news conference today at which he is expected to explain in greater detail his motives for seeking the nomination after previously having taken himself out of the race.

In his statement Thursday, Goldberg said: "I have become increasingly convinced that the issues at stake in the New York state election this year are of paramount and urgent importance both for the state and the nation, and that I should not in good conscience stand aside from dealing with them in the most effective way."

The silver-haired attorney added he had been "urged by an increasing number of citizens both within and outside the Democratic party" in the past several weeks to seek the nomination.

Goldberg's announcement set up the possibility of a bitter June 23 primary fight among six Democratic aspirants for the governor's seat now held by Republican Nelson A. Rockefeller.

North Viet Troops Attempt To Overrun Camp; 10 GIs Killed

SAIGON (AP) — Ten American soldiers were killed and 31 wounded when North Vietnamese sappers tried to overrun a jungle firebase midway between Hue and the A Shau Valley before dawn today, the U.S. Command said.

At least 10 of the enemy also died in the two-hour fight. The North Vietnamese, screened by mortar fire and using small arms, rocket grenades and satchel charges, repeatedly assaulted the base in attempts to break through the perimeter.

Spokesmen at Da Nang said the enemy did not get into the base, known as Firebase Granite, but the Americans—fighting in thick jungle canopy and darkness without benefit of air support—lowered their artillery to fire directly at the attackers. They also called in artillery from a nearby firebase.

The U.S. casualties were the heaviest for American forces in any single ground action since Feb. 20 when 14 were killed and 29 wounded in an ambush south of Da Nang.

Thursday nine Americans were killed and one wounded when an enemy mine destroyed an Americal Division armored personnel carrier south of Da Nang.

Firebase Granite manned by elements of the 101st Airborne Division's 3rd Brigade, was recently opened in the rugged hills about 18 miles west of Hue, Da Nang sources said.

The enemy soldiers hit the base shortly after 2 a.m., and repeatedly assaulted it for more than two hours, then the attacks trailed off into sporadic firing until after daylight. The U.S. soldiers found 10 dead enemy in a preliminary sweep, spokesmen said.

In Saigon, terrorists bombed a house occupied by American civilians working under contract for the U.S. Navy. The explosion shattered windows but no casualties were reported. Earlier a terrorist bomb at another building injured five Vietnamese.

Two more American helicopters were shot down Thursday, but spokesmen said there were no casualties.

The crashes brought to 3,476 the number of helicopters reported lost in the Vietnam war since Jan. 1, 1961.

Split Over Search For A New Dean

A disagreement on policy between Supt. President John A. Grasham and Marin Junior College's Academic Senate has caused the college district's board to delay the search for a new dean of instruction.

The board had hoped to authorize advertising for a successor to retiring Paul (Dutch) Clymer last night, but delayed action after receiving conflicting recommendations from Grasham and the senate.

The board agreed to adjourn last night's meeting to 8 p.m. next Tuesday to meet with the senate and discuss the matter.

The major dispute centers around the makeup of the screening committee which will be responsible for recommending the top five or six candidates for the $23,340-per-year position.

Grasham recommended a 10-member committee made up of two faculty members, two classified employees, two board members, two administrators and two students. The Academic Senate, however, wants four teachers on the committee.

The senate also recommended that the college consider not recruiting a dean from the outside but, rather, elevating one of the four assistant deans to the position for the coming year. Senate members said the remaining three deans could shoulder extra work left by the promotion of one dean. In that manner, they said, the school could save $23,340 for next year.

Grasham told the board he disagreed with that recommendation, noting that the position in question was his immediate assistant and would be at times in charge of the college. He said he felt a fully qualified man, not an interim dean, was needed.

Grasham also defended spending the money for the dean, noting that the recent accreditation team had recommended the hiring of two new deans.

The Marin Junion College Board also:

FUNDS — Approved a new application for federal funds for disadvantaged students. The college failed to qualify last year for funds.

PLAN — Approved the 10-year construction plan as submitted.

RESIGNATION — Approved resignation of Frank R. Warner, coordinator of the college's Police Science Program, for personal reasons. The resignation is effective June 30.

LEAVE — Granted a maternity leave of absence to Ruth K. Nash, biology instructor, for the 1970-71 school year.

PAY — Changed policy handbook to provide equal pay for part and full-time employees performing the same tasks. The change is effective July 1, 1970.

CLERK HIRED — Approved hiring Dolores Lackie as a clerk in the Financial Aid Office, effective March 20. Her salary will be $595 per month.

FIELD — Accepted as completed the college's new football and baseball fields.

BONUS — Awarded a $1,000 bonus to instructor Gordon Chan, who completed work for his doctorate of philosophy this month.

BUDGET — Heard a report from the business and economics department on the effect of proposed cutbacks in the department's budget for the 1970-71 year.

Burglary Plea

David Barrow, 25, of Marin City, has pleaded innocent in Marin Superior Court to a charge of burglarizing a service station at Lucas Valley Road and Highway 101 on Feb. 10. A jury trial was set Monday for the week of Aug. 17.

Creek Area To Be Ecological Center

The Marin Junior College District trustees last night approved setting aside an oxbow of the old Corte Madera Creek as an ecological study area but deferred action until April 9 on a request that a sewer pumping station be built on the site.

The college biology department's request for the ecological study area breezed through with hardly five minutes of discussion, the board approving the request 4-0, with trustees Elizabeth M. Deedy, Harry J. Moore and Charles W. Gray absent.

The board's approval did, however, stipulate that the area be developed and used "with a minimum of finances, in light of the current fiscal problems."

On the heels of the site's approval, representatives of Marin County Sanitary District 1 went before the board seeking approval for construction of a pumping station on part of the 2.3 acres now reserved for ecology.

Engineer J. Warren Nute of San Rafael told the board the pump was needed to keep the district's sewers from overflowing. He said the building would take up about a quarter-acre and would consist of two floors below ground and one above.

He told the board that construction of the building would force removal of only two trees from the site.

Trustee Donald K. Felt questioned Nute as to whether this was the only possible site for the pump station. Nute said it was. The college's planning director, Dale Fleming, concurred.

"If I were in their shoes, this is where I would be trying to put the station," Fleming said. "It's unfortunate from our standpoint, however." He did say, however, that the previous overflowing of sewers had polluted the area and the pump station would solve this.

The area in question is located directly in back of the college's gym and football and baseball diamonds.

Nute said that the district was willing to landscape its site to blend with the rest of the area and to restore any ground which was disturbed during construction of the pump station.

Felt said that to vote yes on the proposal he would "have to be convinced there was no other possible location for the pump." The board is expected to act on the issue at the April 9 meeting.

Budget Study Is Under Way

Preliminary budget sessions between Marin County department heads on the one hand and the county administrator and county auditor-controller on the other began this afternoon at Civic Center.

Auditor-controller Michael Mitchell said these sessions will be held in his office every day except Tuesdays for the next three weeks.

In most cases, the county administrator will try to pare down the budgets presented by each department. After three weeks of arguing and haggling, the county administrator will compile the proposed Marin County budget for 1970-71 and present it to the county supervisors. This is usually printed and available to the public in late May.

From mid-June to June 30, supervisors will hold hearings to determine the final budget for 1970-71.

Candidates' Night Set For Fairfax

Three incumbents seeking reelection and four challengers for three seats on the Fairfax City Council will appear at a candidates' night at 8 p.m. March 30 at the Manor School on Oak Manor Drive.

The candidates are Robert R. Souza, Adelaide P. Wilson and Frank J. Egger, incumbents, and Lee Nelder, Winston Curtis, James K. Henington and Albert E. Gately.

The program is sponsored by the Fairfax Lions Club, Human Needs Forum and League of Women Voters.

Detention Camps Law Repeal Asked

The county should support legislation to repeal a law that put Japanese Americans into concentration camps during World War II, and to give Indians the right to appear in court before a jury like all American citizens.

Resolutions to support such legislation were approved unanimously by the Marin County Human Rights Commission last night and will be sent to the Marin County Board of Supervisors for endorsement. (Another rights commission story page 1)

Request for the first resolution came from Ray Okamura and Edison Uno of Berkeley, national co-chairmen of the Japanese American Citizens League. They asked for maximum community pressure to Congress to repeal the Emergency Detention Act, which put 100,000 Japanese Americans on the West Coast into detention camps during World War II.

The request for equal court rights for Indians came from Commissioner Harry D. Williams, who charged that Indians are forced to appeal their grievances to a five-man commission instead of to regular courts. "The chairman of that commission has said that the Indians have no right to bitch; they are lucky to be living in the United States and not in Siberia," declared Williams.

OCCUPATIONAL EDUCATION—Hear from Charles B. Weers that county school officials have set a public meeting for 7:30 p.m. March 26 at the Civic Center to explain a new proposal for an occupational education program in the county to improve training of youth in vocations.

BELLA AARON—Asked Executive Director Austin J. Thompson to send flowers to Commissioner Bella Aaron, who is recovering from a heart attack. Thompson said Mrs. Aaron is progressing well but will not be back on the commission for another four to six weeks.

DRAFT BOARD—On a suggestion of Anthony Medrano, asked the staff to find out who serves on the Marin County Draft Board, how members are appointed, and how they operate. Medrano said he received many queries about the draft board and wants more details.

RESIGNATIONS — Accepted with regret the resignations of Commissioners George E. Higgins and Francis Geddes and thanked them for their service on the commission. Higgins will be transferred to another Fairchild plant in New Mexico, and Reverend Geddes is too busy with the low-cost housing development under construction at his First Congregational Church.

SAN QUENTIN—Heard from Thompson that he is meeting with inmates and officials of San Quentin Prison to insure that the human rights of incarcerated persons are protected.

MANPOWER PROGRAM—Recommended to the county supervisors that $2,500 be appropriated for this fiscal year and $7,500 for the next fiscal year to hire a qualified coordinator to administer a centralized manpower agency. W. Robert Lomax Jr., executive director of the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council, announced he is setting up a central office at 918 C Street, San Rafael, for countywide coordination of jobs for unemployed and services needed to keep unemployed on jobs once they find employment.

RACISM SEMINAR—Heard from Geddes that a series of training seminars is being held at Ralston White Retreat in Mill Valley for clergymen and lay persons to acquaint whites with how racism creeps into the American way of life.

County Employee Group To Hear Senate Hopefuls

All candidates for the state Senate seat now held by Sen. John F. McCarthy have been invited to speak before the Marin County Employees Association Wednesday night at the Civic Center.

A general membership meeting of the county employees association will be held in the supervisors' chambers on the third floor, at 7:30 p.m.

Aspirants who have announced for the Senate race are republicans Peter H. Behr, Raymond H. Shone, Donald Pinkerton of Fairfield, and Hubert O. Pessner of Greenbrae; Democrat Michael R. Peevey of San Rafael; and American Independent Party candidate Esther Anne Smart of Larkspur.

Randall M. Prevo, general manager of the employees group, said candidates will discuss their qualifications and answer questions from the audience.

Prevo will also report on the progress made by the employees' negotiating team which is working on the 1970-71 contract with the county.

STRIKE

master General Winton M. Blount said today failure to bring the postal strike to an immediate halt will have a devastating effect on the national economy.

The administration and Congress have told the striking workers that they must return to work before there will be any consideration of their demands for increased pay.

Some Wall Street brokers feared a continued strike could shut down the entire securities industry by Monday. The garment industry faced the loss of Easter business because rush orders lay buried in the post office.

Presidential Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Thursday although the administration is concerned about the strike's effect on the public welfare there are no plans so far to mobilize military or National Guard units to move the mail in the NewYork-New Jersey area.

This morning the strike thrust its first probe into the Chicago area when pickets appeared outside a post office in suburban Berwyn, which also serves Stickney and Forest View. The assistant postmaster said supervisory personnel and some clerks who crossed the line were providing reduced services.

There appeared no end before Saturday when the New York letter carriers who began the walkout are to vote on ending the strike—the first of its magnitude in the 161-year history of the U.S. Post Office Department.

No negotiations were being held since the Post Office Department cannot grant the higher wages the strikers say they need to raise them above a subsistence near the poverty level. A decision on the wages is up to Congress.

Current annual salary ranges from $6,176 to $8,442 after 21 years. The letter carriers are seeking a salary schedule of $8,500 to $11,700.

The strike was felt by virtually everyone in affected areas—from relatives waiting word on servicemen in Vietnam to pensioners depending on the postman for their checks to corporate presidents involved in million dollar deals.

Traffic at air freight forwarders increased sharply, the New York Telephone Co. reported "above normal" traffic and an executive of a messenger service declared, "This is the end of the world. This is pandemonium."

Ralph Gross, president of the Commerce and Industry Association said that while insurance companies and banks were hit hard, every business, no matter how small, was affected.

"It's a geometric progression," he said. "There's going to be a very serious backlog problem."

The city announced a five-day extension of the deadline on its commercial rent and occupancy tax. The state said it would take "a reasonable attitude" toward those who could not meet today's deadline for sales tax payments because of the strike.

The strike was triggered by long simmering resentment over congressional failure to act on a pay raise. In his budget, President Nixon provided $175 million for postal pay increases, but a 5.4 per cent hike that was to have taken effect last October was still bottled up in Congress.

phase program, first organizing clubs and chartering buses for them, then gradually leasing Greyhound buses, and finally, operating new district buses to replace the leased Greyhound buses.

The applications to the federal government would be for a grant to cover two-thirds of the cost of buying the district's own buses, and for a grant to plan an exclusive bus lane and to meter traffic entering the freeway.

Another advantage of the commute club proposal, Shields said, was that the district then could await production of gas turbine buses before purchasing the bulk of its fleet.

A similar commute club operating in Peoria, Ill., since 1965, has been a financial success and 72 per cent of its riders formerly rode to work in an automobile, Shields reported.

He estimated the annual commuter club cost at $338,000 and the district's own bus system at $692,000 a year. He figured the district would subsidize the charters at $3 per seat.

The catering subsidy would include $99,540 for labor and $2,350 for coffee and other materials.

In another bus matter, the committee received an analysis from consulting engineer Arthur C. Jenkins of Berkeley on the feasibility of a bus system operated by the Alameda-Contra Costa County Transit District under a joint agreement with the bridge district.

Jenkins said the principal problem would be the prospect of taxpayers' suits in both districts because the legal authority for such an agreement was unclear, and because such an agreement could saddle taxpayers of both districts with deficits of each district.

He noted that there will be room for daytime parking of Marin commute buses in the San Francisco Bay Bridge Terminal, but not until rapid transit replaces transbay buses in about three years.

The committee took no action on Jenkins' report after Gen. Mgr. Dale W. Luehring said that such a joint agreement "would compound our problems rather than simplify them."

Jenkins was paid $2,000 by the district for his report.

Deputies Find Marijuana, Stolen Items

Stanley East Parker, 62, of Glen Ellen, was arraigned yesterday in Southern Sonoma Municipal Court on charges of possession of stolen property and possession of marijuana.

Parker was arrested Wednesday night at his home when sheriff's deputies said they found stolen furniture and antiques in his truck there. Officers said some of the articles including wrought iron furniture had been reported stolen from a Kenwood summer home owned by John Ludlow of Mill Valley.

A large box of marijuana was also said to have been found in the truck. A search warrant had been issued by Judge Alexander J. McMahon.

Judge McMahon denied a request by Public Defender Evan Wolfe for reduction of the $62,500 bail. McMahon said he had information that Parker was prepared to flee to Mexico if released.

The arraignment was continued to Monday at 1:30 p.m. to allow Parker to consult with his attorney.

Parker was arrested last December for possessing stolen property taken from the Petaluma home of Victor De Carli. That case is pending in Sonoma County Superior Court.

Mrs. Jordan Will Seek Spouse's Job

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Mrs. Alberta Jordan, in a surprise change of mind, decided today to try to succeed her ailing husband as California secretary of state.

Mrs. Jordan, 56, had announced Thursday that she would not run for the office held for all but two of the last 59 years by a Jordan.

A two-page news release distributed at the Capitol today—the last day to file as a candidate—did not mention the change of mind. It merely said she would take out nomination papers at 11 a.m. and "announced she will be a candidate to succeed her husband in the office."

Jordan, 81, has been bedridden since he suffered a stroke last May. The stroke has left him paralyzed and mute.

Mrs. Jordan served as his private secretary for eight years before they were married in 1955.

Three Firms Sued Over Antibiotic

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Justice Department has accused Bristol-Myers Co., one of the nation's largest durg firms, and two others with restraint of trade in the manufacture of ampicillin and other semi-synthetic penicillins.

Attorney Gen. John Mitchell announced a civil antitrustsuit was filed in Federal Court here against Bristol-Myers of New York City, the Beecham Group Limited of England and its U.S. subsidiary Beecham, Ind., of Clifton, N.J.

The government alleged the three companies combined and conspired in unreasonable restraint of trade in ampicillin and other semisynthetic penicillins.

They were further accused of having monopolized trade in ampicillin by fraudulently procuringand enforcing Beecham's patent covering ampicillin and by restraining and preventing the sale of the drugs in bulk form under other than specified trade names.

It is sold by Bristol Myers as "Polycillin," by the Ayerst division of American Home Products Corp., as the agent for Beecham, as "Penbritain;" by the Weyth division of American Home os "Omnipen; by Parke Davis and Co. as "Amcil";and by E.R. Squibb and Sons as "Principen."

She said since the last council meeting, she and her husband, retired Navy Cptn. John G. Lewis, "have bought property in Nicasio, to which we expect to move when our Ross home is sold."

Mrs. Lewis said she could have chosen to stay on the council until the home was sold, but she didn't feel that would be proper since she would be leaving eventually.

She also said she has been opposed to the law requiring local officials to make public financial disclosure of their investments, beyond $10,000.

"I feel it is an unwarranted invasion of privacy when applied to nonsalaried public officials and I refuse to comply with it."

Two council members, Mayor Allen and Roy Farrington Jones, are running unopposed in the April 14 municipal election, but there can be no race for Mrs. Lewis's seat because she did not announce her resignation until after the filing deadline had passed. The deadline was Feb. 19.

Mayor Allen said he "reluctantly accepted the unexpected resignation," and asked that town residents interested in being appointed to the council notify him or the town clerk by April 1.

Candidates will be interviewed at a closed session at 8 p.m. April 2 at Town Hall, and a successor chosen to complete Mrs. Lewis's term.

Asked why he felt candidates in Ross should make their views and qualifications known behind closed doors—since this is an election year and in every other city candidates must state their qualifications openly—Allen told the Independent-Journal "that's just the way we've done it in the past.

"It never occurred to me to do it any other way," he said, adding he expected no change "unless the candidates express a wish to be heard in public. Certainly, if they want to do it publicly, then they can.

"You can often find a lot more about somebody in private, and might ask leading questions you might not want to ask in public," Allen said.

Mrs. Lewis, who has lived nearly all her life in Ross, served three years as town clerk before she was appointed to the council.

Mrs. Lewis is a daughter of the late attorney A. Crawford Greene Sr., and the Natalie Coffin Greene Park near Phoenix Lake was named in her mother's honor.

Mrs. Lewis is a member of the Marin County Juvenile Delinquency Prevention Commission and will continue at that post.

$450,000 Is Sought In Son's Death

The parents of a 16-year-old San Rafael High School student who was electrocuted last August while sanding bleachers at the school yesterday filed a $450,000 wrongful death suit in Marin Superior Court against the school district and several of its officials.

Also named as responsible for the death of Bradley R. Burnell, son of Harold L. and June S. Burnell of 80 East Crescent Drive, were the Davis Equipment Co. and its owner William C. Davis and 20 John Does.

Named as negligent were Alan W. Ellsberg, principal of the high school; Charles L. Condrotte, business manager of San Rafael High School District, John Thompson, superintendent of maintenance at the high school, and employees William Meyer and Lloyd Curtis.

The Burnell boy died after touching a metal pole while plugging in an electric sander. Officials said that he had wet shoes because he had been washing cars prior to the accident.

The Burnells claimed in the suit that proper safety measures had not been carried out and that a short circuit caused the accident which happened on Aug. 2.

They ask $300,000 general damages; $100,000 for pain and suffering, and $50,000 punitive damages as well as funeral and burial expenses.

The sole purpose, said Mosher is to make the apartments for adults only. Immediately after the families were notified of rent raises to $275, Mosher said the same apartments were advertised in the newspapers for rental to adults only for $235 per month.

Commissioners, headed by Chairman James Quiett, asked Thompson to contact the county counsel and ask the county supervisors for any legal way to control sudden jumps in rent, particularly in the middle of a school term, so that children cannot even remain long enough for June graduation.

Chamber Sets Novato Yule Lights Plan

It's a long time until Christmas, but the Novato Chamber of Commerce board last night started planning ahead on decorating the city with lights next December.

The board voted to install electrical outlets on 44 aluminum street light poles on Grant Avenue, and at Diablo Avenue and South Novato Boulevard. The cost would be $35 per pole or $1,540, according to Richard A. Gronberg, chairman of the Christmas Lighting Committee.

Gronberg reported that he is working on getting electrical decoration for the city on a three-year purchase contract.

Haynsworth Foe To Back Nixon's New Appointee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Jack Miller of Iowa, a Republican who bolted ranks on President Nixon's last Supreme Court nominee, said today he would vote to confirm G. Harrold Carswell.

The announcement by Miller in a Senate speech brought to 39 the number of senators publicly committed to Carswell with enough who say they are leaning toward Senate confirmation to form a majority as of now. There are 100 senators.

A final vote is not expected until after the two-day Easter recess that starts next Thursday.

Miller, one of 17 Republicans who voted against the nomination of Clement F. Haynsworth Jr. last year, said he was persuaded to back Carswell by the former dean of the Iowa State University Law School.

Oesterman Quits Race In Favor Of McInnis

Richard J. Oesterman, who had planned to run for First District supervisor against John F. McInnis, today announced he has changed his mind and urged his supporters to vote for McInnis.

The San Rafael mortgage broker and investment counselor said his decision resulted from the entry of Paul C. Zucker, county planning director, in the race. He said he feared his entry would take votes away from McInnis that might result in Zucker's election. (Another Zucker story, page 1)

"That would be a disaster for the county," said Oesterman.

"I therefore urge those who would have voted for me to vote for John McInnis, so that county affairs may continue to be conducted in a proper manner."

Oesterman called Zuckers' entry into the race, with a blast at the board of supervisors, a case of "biting the hand that feeds him." He predicted a "blood bath" campaign "of which I do not want to be a part" as result of Zucker's entry.

Oesterman served on both the 1968 and 1969 county grand juries. The 1968 grand jury was sharply critical of the county planning department and especially of Zucker, its director. It accused him of arrogance and said he should "be made to realize that he is a public servant and that the public is entitled to cordial service."

Larkspur Board Approves 22-Day Summer Session

The Larkspur School District will have a 22-day summer school session costing $11,800, the Larkspur School District board decided last night.

Superintendent Milton S. Cohen said the board approved the program at Neil Cummins School. Albert Kerr, vice principal at Larkspur-Corte Madera School, was named principal of the summer session.

"The program is almost entirely self-sustaining," Cohen said. "The $11,800 cost, which goes for salaries of teachers and teacher aides, will be paid for by the students attending the summer school."

The Larkspur School District Board Also:

BUDGET — Studied the preliminary 1970-71 budget, and set further work sessions in April.

TEACHERS—Instructed the board's representatives on how to proceed in negotiation with the Larkspur Teachers Association on salaries for next year. The board tentatively set March 31 as the next meeting date between the negotiating team and teachers.

TRANSPORTATION — Heard a report from Gilbert Slusher, principal of Larkspur-Corte Madera School, on bus procedures in the district.

DISCLOSURE — Instructed Cohen to write a letter to the Legislature expressing the board's disapproval of the state's financial disclosure law. The board feels the law would be an invasion of privacy and is unconstitutional, Cohen said.

TELEVISION—Ratified a contract with KQED for instructional television to cost $847, half of which will be paid for by a federal grant.

CALENDAR—Adopted a school calendar for 1970-71 with classes starting Sept. 8 and ending June 11.

PERSONNEL—Accepted resignations of Barbara Hall for retirement and Carol Lee Freedman and Janet Attubato for maternity leaves. The board granted a leave of absence to Dorothy Walters to study at the Froebel Institute in London.

MEETINGS—Changed the meeting dates in April from April 9 and 23 to April 16 and 30 at 8 p.m. in the administration office.

Fire Station Site Will Be Selected

The site for a new Marin City fire station will be chosen tomorrow by the Marin City Community Services District board, according to Frank Phillips Sr., board chairman.

Phillips said the board will meet at 9 a.m. to view three possible sites on Drake Avenue and Donahue Street.

Bicycle Rider, 7, Injured In Accident

Christina Marie Corridan, 7, of 201 D Street, San Rafael, was treated yesterday at Marin General Hospital for multiple scrapes and bruises after her bicycle collided with a car near her home, police reported today.

The accident occurred at 8:25 a.m. when the child's bike struck a car owned by Bonnie Elizabeth Coe, 28, as she was pulling out of her driveway at 239 D Street, police said.

$24,000 In Flood Aid Funds Asked

Private property owners in the unincorporated areas of Marin County will ask for a total of $24,000 in federal aid as reimbursement for the cost of removing debris caused by last winter's floods.

Irving L. Schwartz, assistant civil engineer for the county department of public works, said he received applications from 36 property owners by the Wednesday deadline.

Those victimized in incorporated areas submitted their claims to public works departments in their respective cities. Schwartz said he has no figures of claims made in the incorporated areas because they will be processed by each city.

The 36 county claims, totalling $24,000, will be submitted to the Federal Office of Emergency Preparedness. Federal and state damage survey teams will visit each site before approval.

Reagan Outlines Welfare Reforms

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Reagan has proposed a welfare reform act which he says will cut welfare costs by $100 million a year and require able-bodied fathers to work.

It was introduced Thursday by Assemblyman Gordon Duffy, R-Hanford, chairman of the Assembly Health and Welfare Committee.

Duffy said the package is designed "to restore the taxpayer's confidence by closing loopholes and lessening abuses of the welfare system while at the same time providing a fairer basis for aiding the truly needy."

In a written message, Reagan urged assemblymen and senators to "bring California's unbridled welfare spending in check."

Most of the savings, an estimated $73 million, would come from a proposed cut from $1,200 to $600 a year in the amount of personal property reserves allowed welfare recipients.

The main features of the act would:

—Require that all "able bodied" males must work at a public service type job as a condition to receiving assistance for them.

—Require that parents who are able must support their unmarried pregnant daughters.

—Establish training programs for mothers in the Aid to Families with Dependent Children program in child development, nutrition and family planning.

—Eliminate mandatory social services.

—Expand the food stamp programs to increase the food purchasing power of welfare recipients.

—Step up fraud investigation.

—Update assistance levels for children on welfare.

Valley Sets Spring Rite Of Clean-Up

Two exhibits, "America, the Beautiful" and "America, the Not-So-Beautiful," and a massive cleanup day Sunday will highlight a three-day celebration of the vernal equinox in San Geronimo Valley begun today.

The exhibits are on display at the Family Art Center in the old Geronimo School on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard. One of the features of the "Not-So-Beautiful" exhibit will be a roomful of garbage, according to Jean Berensmeier, one of the organizers of the celebration.

Persons interested in participating in the cleanup will meet Sunday at 9:30 a.m. at the Family Art Center. Garbage and litter collected throughout the valley will be piled at collection sites in Woodacre and Forest Knolls. County trucks will pick it up Monday.

The exhibits, which went on view today, can be seen from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. tomorrow and Sunday.

The events are sponsored by an ad hoc group of civic and business leaders in the valley.

Richardson Bay Plan Under Fire

The high-rise buildings would be about twice as high as the bridge, he noted.

Smith showed a battery of color slides detailing the nautical slum that the plan is designed to eradicate. Judging from the amused gasps from commissioners, Smith made his point that present conditions are poor.

His slides showed rotted hulls, fresh garbage strewn on mud flats from nearby houseboats, broken pipes, junked cars, piles of discarded construction material and other sights not generally visible to motorists passing on Highway 101.

The plan, approved by the Marin County Board of Supervisors, 3-2, is an attempt to resolve long-standing disagreements between property owners and the county on how much each will be allowed. At least one property owner has indicated he will seek legal action to block dredging of the Sausalito Canal if the plan is not approved by the BCDC.

Property owners along the canal are to be assessed to pay for the dredging.

Steele cited the BCDC plan's policy that states mudflats, vital to regeneration of oxygen in the bay, "should be maintained to the fullest extent possible," allowing fill "only for purposes providing substantial public benefits and only if there is no reasonable alternative."

Steele insisted that the "the threat of the owners to leave this as a mess is not a reason to fill."

All high-rise buildings should be deleted from the plan, and the amount of fill allowed should be reduced, he said. Also, the plan's proposal to fill 5.5 acres for parking should be deleted, Steele said.

Feibusch argued that it was unknown whether a 12-story high-rise building would be economical along the bay. If it turns out that the depth of the mud is 100 feet, for example, a much higher building may be needed to make its construction economically feasible, he said.

Citing the county's report that the bay was filling up with mud — an argument the county used to bolster the need for the plan in order to finance dredging — Feibusch said the mud problem may be caused by the long Kappas "marina" that extends across much of the narrow bay.

In other business, commissioners heard a defense of the state water project from John Teerink, deputy director of the state Department of Water Resources. Water to the Central Valley and Southern California would be taken only from "surplus water" in Northern California, he said.

But he conceded that "surplus water means many things to many people." The state Water Resources Control Board will have to determine the issue, he said.

Asked by commissioner Melville Owen of Kentfield if the Eel, Klamath and Trinity rivers may have to be tapped to provide enough water for both ends of the state, Teerink said that water to meet the state's growth "will have to come from some place."

Chairman Lane in his regular opening report, asked if any commissioner would resign next month instead of filing a statement of their investments under a new state law. No hands went up.

Storage Van Looted Of Nails, A Drill

Thieves stole two 50-pound boxes of nails valued at $14 and a $60 electric drill between 4:30 p.m. Wednesday and 7:30 a.m. yesterday from a storage van owned by Larkins Construction Co. and parked at a construction site at 86 Manderly Road, San Rafael police reported today.

The thieves smashed two windows and broke the van lock causing $13 damage, police said.

Action Taken To Tie Hands Of Sihanouk

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — The two new strong men of Cambodia's government pressed ahead today with their campaign to consolidate their control, stepping up their attacks on ousted Prince Norodom Sihanouk and ordering strong measures against any display of opposition.

Government newspapers carried extensive attacks on the deposed chief of state, accusing him of immorality and assailing his wife, Princess Monique.

Gen. Lon Nol, the premier and armed forces chief, and Deputy Premier Sirik Matak, were reported to fear that opposition to their takeover may develop. The government proclaimed a "state of danger," virtual martial law, and suspended all constitutional rights for six months. Government sources said any persons suspected of subversion or of being a threat to the government would be arrested.

The government banned all meetings of more than three persons and was exercising strict control of all newspapers.

Some persons who used to hold government office and who do not like the leadership change have been removed and placed under house arrest.

Matak charged there is a lot of subversive activity by Vietnamese living in Cambodia and distributing anti-Cambodian pamphlets. He warned Cambodians not to associate with them.

There are tanks and soldiers in Phnom Penh's streets.

Despite the uncertainty about possible opposition and counteraction everyone seems relatively calm.

One activity is attempts to destroy the reputation of Sihanouk, including comparing him to South Vietnam's President Ngo Dinh Diem before he was killed and with former President Sukarno of Indonesia.

Jury Closes Case On Schrade's Funds

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Sacramento County grand jury investigating lobbyist's $5,000 contribution to Sen. Jack Schrade says it found "insufficient evidence" to indict anyone involved in the case.

But grand jury foreman W. B. Scollan Jr. said Thursday, the laws governing such gifts are inadequate .

The two comments were made in a brief four-paragraph statement issued by the grand jury after hearing 17 hours of testimony in the two-week inquiry.

Scallon said Dist. Atty. John M. Price "presented the evidence" but did not ask for an indictment. Price declined comment except to say the case was closed.

"The grand jury would recommend to the legislature that it . . . substantially revise the present law, which apparently allows legislative advocates (lobbyists) to make cash contributions to legislators as campaign contributions without public disclosure of that fact . . . " Scallon said.

"The grand jury also finds that the campaign statements presently filed . . . by legislators are useless in determining the amounts contributed by any individual or group to a legislator and when such contributions were made," he added.

The only witness called by the grand jury for its fourth and final hearing Thursday was lobbyist Daniel F. Creedon, who delivered the check to Schrade on behalf of the California Association of Thrift and Loan Companies.

It was Creedon's second appearance under subpoena. Other witnesses called during the inquiry included Schrade, Sen. Alan Short, D-Stockton, Sen. Lawrence Walsh, D-Huntington Park, and the presidents of five California thrift and loan companies. The three legislators all said they appeared voluntarily.

Schrade has acknowledged receiving the $5,000 check but says it was a legitimate campaign contribution.

The San Diego Republican was elected to a four-year term eight months before. He has been criticized because he voted a month later in a senate committee for a bill supported by the thrift and loan companies.

The bill, which would broaden the lending authority of the companies, later was defeated on the Senate floor.

Bomb Threat Empties Bank In San Rafael

A San Rafael bank was evacuated yesterday after an extortionist threatened to set off a bomb if the bank's manager failed to deliver $5,000 to a pickup spot near Petaluma, San Rafael police reported today.

According to police, John W. Nickel, manager of the Bank of Marin branch at 25 Mitchell Boulevard received a telephone call from a calm-speaking man at 2:02 p.m. ordering him to place the money in the trunk of his car and deliver it to the Petaluma Boulevard South off-ramp on Highway 101.

The building was immediately evacuated and searched, police reported. A bomb was not found anywhere in or around the building, they said.

Machine Looted

Two cases of soft drinks and $6 in change were stolen between 2 a.m. Sunday and 6:30 a.m. Monday from a soft drink machine at Paul's Phillips 66 station at 1700 Fourth Street, San Rafael, police have reported.

Gas Tax Transit Proposals Gaining

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Two measures to allow the use of gasoline tax money to pay for mass transit and antismog projects are closer to the Assembly floor today despite strong opposition from auto interests.

Both measures — a constitutional amendment and a bill — were approved Thursday by a 6-2 vote of the Assembly Transportation Committee. Each faces one more committee test before going to the full Assembly.

The constitutional amendment, authored by Assemblyman John Foran, D-San Francisco, would placed on the November ballot if approved by a two-thirds vote in the legislature. It calls for repeal of the portion of the state constitution which requires gasoline tax money be spent only on highways and would need a simple majority of voter approval in November to take effect.

The bill, also authored by Foran, would allow the state to spend its share of the seven-cent gasoline tax only for highways and air pollution control. But the half distributed to cities and counties could also be used for public transit and other nonhighway transportation projects.

That measure now faces the Assembly Ways and Means Committee before going to the Assembly, where a majority vote could send it to the Senate.

"This is a simple question of untying the hand of the local entitites for whom we collect the money," said Foran. "They are now forced to spend the money on roads even if local people feel the best solution to their problem is not another highway."

Opposition to both measures was marhsaled by the State Chamber of Commerce, the Auto mobile Club of Southern California, the California State Automobile Association, the County Supervisors Association of California, the State Department of Public Works and the Public Works Highway Engineers Association.

Financial Disclosure Compromise Approved

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A compromise financial disclosure bill aimed at pacifying angry local officials and containing an amendment prompted by U.S. Sen. George Murphy's $20,000 Hollywood consulting contract reached the state Senate today.

The Republican-sponsored measure, stalled for weeks by Democrats led by Jess Unruh, cleared the Assembly Thursday night on a 59-7 vote after hours of bitter debate that crossed party lines.

The bill by Republican Speaker Robert T. Monagan repeals some provisions of the 1969 Unruh Financial Disclosure Act for public officials and political candidates. Many local officials have threatened to quit rather than bare their private finances to public scrutiny.

But Assemblyman Frank Murphy Jr., R-Santa Cruz, condemned the measure as an unconstitutional "piece of crap" during an exchange with Unruh, a candidate for governor.

Monagan rejected the unconstitutional charge and insisted the legislation was needed to alert the public to possible conflict of interest dealings of their officials.

Another Republican, Assemblyman William T. Bagley of San Rafael, urged its passage as important to keep the public's faith in government. "I think the public of California just sort of cares today," he said.

Manson Granted A New Attorney

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Charles M. Manson has a new lawyer and a new date for his joint trial with four of his co-defendants on murder charges in the slaying of actress Sharon Tate and six others.

The trial date is April 20. The new lawyer is blond, bearded Ronald Hughes, 35, and this is his first criminal case.

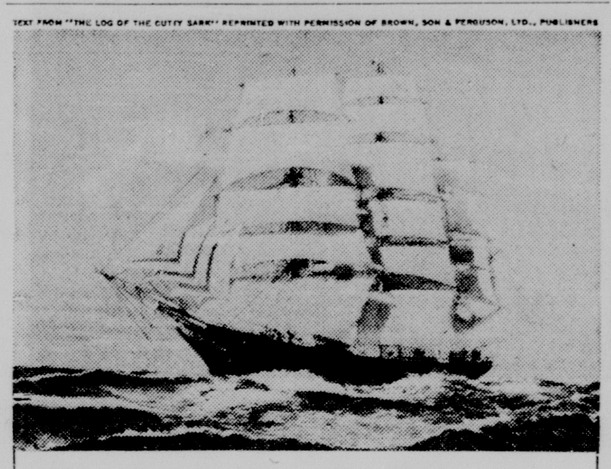

The trial was postponed from March 30 to give Hughes time for preparation.

Hughes, who passed the bar examination only last June, was appointed Thursday at Manson's request when the long-haired hippie-type clan leader objected to motions made by his court-appointed attorney, Charles Hollopeter.

TV In The Courtroom? It Might Help The Courts

A Midwest judge has proposed that television be invited into the courtroom. He believes it would stimulate public support for the courts.

The judge making this remarkable suggestion is no obscure justice of the peace bidding for headlines. Not at all. He is Thomas E. Brennan, chief justice of the Michigan Supreme Court.

Brennan made his suggestion in an address to the annual meeting of the Grand Rapids Bar Association.

He looks at it this way:

RESPECT FOR THE COURTS is low. It has been lowered further by the "Chicago Seven" trial. In that trial, the courtroom antics that led to the harsh rulings by Judge Julius J. Hoffman were never seen by the public — because television cameras and newspaper photographers were barred, as they are from almost all courts in the United States. But the out-of-court denunciations of the judge by the defendants and their attorneys had plenty of television coverage.

If the eye of the camera were focussed on what went on in the courtroom, believes Justice Brennan, the public would have a higher regard for courts.

In early days of this country, he reminded the Michigan lawyers, people flocked to courts to watch the drama and hear the stirring addresses by the contending attorneys. And they respected the courts.

Nowadays, few will attend trials—but many might watch them on television, and more would read newspaper accounts that were enlivened by courtroom pictures.

JUSTICE BRENNAN said he was "well aware of all the old arguments about cameras disrupting the dignity of the court." But, he said, cameras have been allowed in the courts of Washtenaw County, Mich., and "I have never thought. . .that the Washtenaw Circuit Court was disrupted because of the presence of cameras."

The TV cameras allowed there are for closed-circuit televising of trials for students at the University of Michigan law school. The cameras are unobtrusively placed in the courtroom. There is no shuffling about by television crews.

TV cameras could be placed in such manner in other courtrooms, Justice Brennan believes.

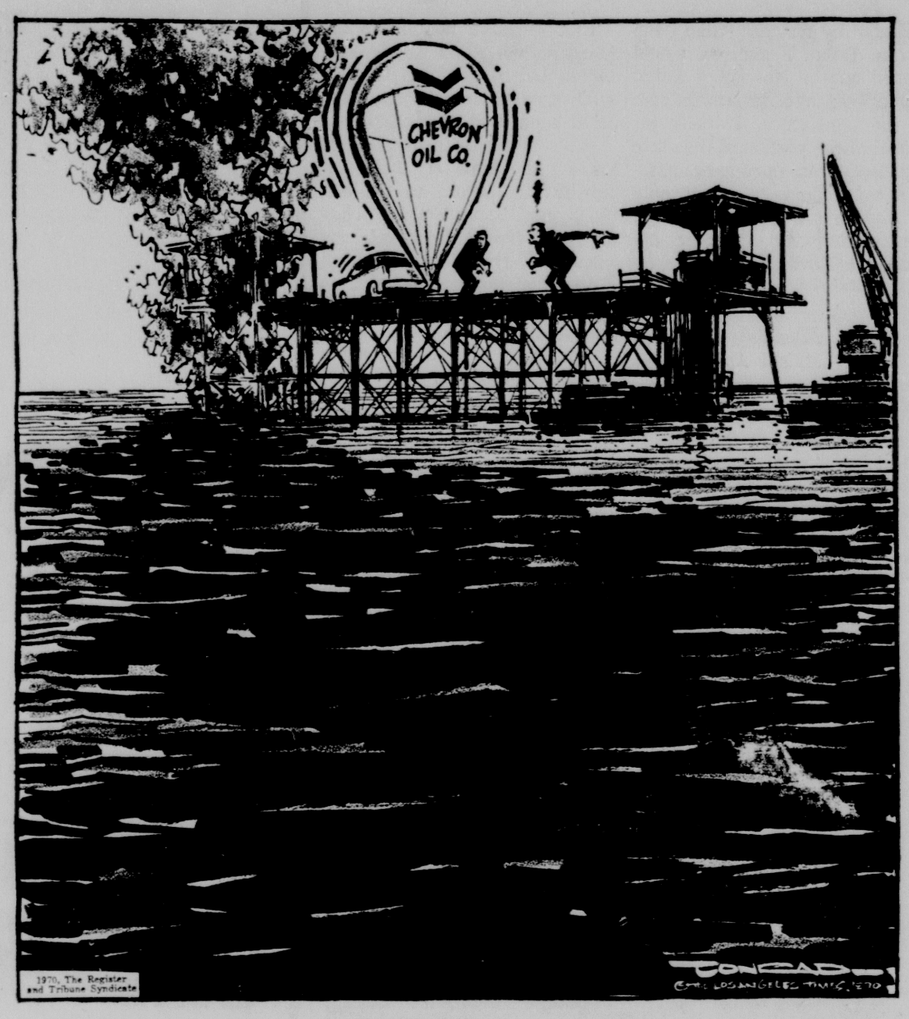

WE RATHER LIKE Justice Brennan's idea—even though putting cameras in the courtroom might reduce the advantage the press has in coverage of trials.

It would serve not only to let people see how the courts operate but also to reduce out-of-court "trials by television" which may have few of the safeguards for fair treatment provided by the judicial process.

It might even teach the television people that it is not necessary to be obtrusive to cover an event. The remote control cameras could be as unobtrusive as the newspaper reporter quietly taking notes at the press table.

OF COURSE—in the unlikely event that other judges endorsed Justice Brennan's proposal—the TV networks might "kill the goose that laid the golden egg" by having Walter Cronkite or Chet Huntley comment on the witnesses' testimony and the lawyers' questions, or by interjecting commercials into the middle of some exciting recital by a witness.

Still, Justice Brennan's idea has merit. It might even make the lawyers better behaved than they are already to know the public was watching them.

State Board Loses Remarkable Man With Leake's Retirement

BY HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — During the hectic period of filing for public office, which ends today, often little attention is given to the public officials the state will lose as the result of biennial elections.

At the present moment it would therefore be more than appropriate to call attention to the retirement from public office of Paul R. Leake, member of the State Board of Equalization from the Third District, which comprises most of the area in the northwestern portion of the state.

Leake is the editor and publisher of the Woodland (Yolo County) Democrat. He was appointed to the board of equalization by Gov. Earl Warren in 1952. Elected in 1954, and re-elected ever since.

HE CAME to the office during the days the board was in disrepute because of its connection with and surveillance of the liquor industry, and it was under his energetic activities that liquor supervision was removed from the board and put in a separate department.

High officials were sentenced to the penitentiary, one lobbyist put in time in federal prison, and William Bonelli, one-time chairman of the board still is a refugee in Mexico from various charges resulting from the investigation.

In making the Leake appointment back in 1952, Warren picked the one man in California who was not open to compromise with order, decency and morality in coping with a tense and troubled administration of the state's liquor laws—and also a man strong enough in his principles to do the necessary clean-up work. As a result of his actions, California's liquor administration remains one of the best in the nation.

LEAKE HAS announced he will not run again this year for the board position, due to the fact he will observe his 80th birthday next August, and feels that "the people should be represented by a younger man—someone to keep on top of today's frightening problems."

"I decided to retire," he said, "before I get to be an old scold, or a sourpuss. To wait until I am forced to submit to artificial respiration would be inexcusable."

But those who know Leake as well as this writer, who was city editor of his paper in 1925 and 1926, know he will never retire, for the simple reason his mind is too active to encompass the lethargy of the usual type of retirement.

He wants, he says, to spend more time with his family and his newspaper. This means his son Kenneth, now editor of the Democrat, is in for a lot of trouble next year when he tries to keep up with the "old man."

TIMES HAVE changed materially since Paul Leake succeeded his father, the late Ed E. Leake, as editor and publisher of the Woodland Democrat. But it can be said for Leake that he has kept pace with the times, without sacrificing his devotion to his own principles, and those of his father to retention of the ideals of producing a fine newspaper dedicated to the interests of the community and decency in government.

His constituents will find it difficult to replace him.

Court Forgets 'Hold Fast Bible'

How is it that the United States Supreme Court is able to flout "the law of the land" by prohibiting the "free exercise of religion"?

We are now reaping the bitter fruit of "permissive education" without morals or character-building, teaching the atheistic theory of evolution and pornography, permitting Communists to teach in our schools and work in defense plants, preventing states from prosecuting sedition!

Dr. Lyon Phelps says: "Western civilization is founded upon the Bible; our ideas, our wisdom, our philosophy, our literature, our art, our ideals come more from the Bible than from all other books put together. I believe a knowledge of the Bible without a college course is more valuable than a college course without the Bible."

Gen. U. S. Grant said: "Hold fast to the Bible as the sheet-anchor of your liberties; write its precepts in your hearts and practice them in your lives. To the influence of this Book we are indebted for all the progress made in true civilization and to this we must look as our guide in the future. 'Righteousness exalteth a Nation, but sin is a reproach to any people'." (Proverbs 14:34)

Wornum Remark Brings Response

According to the Independent-Journal, Michael Wornum made the remark at a recent meeting of the Golden Gate Bridge District directors that I was "not acceptable" to serve on a citizens advisory panel being formed to assist in the districts transit planning process.

Mr. Wornum's statement does not surprise me as it exactly expresses his opinion of anyone who does not accept his dictum "any kind of transit at any price."

During the past several years I have been critical of both the Marin County Transit District and the bridge district for one very simple reason - neither of these agencies has been willing to make a clear, concise statement as to the real cost and real anticipated effect of their various proposals for transit and then ask the people who must pay for these systems to authorize, through the long established and accepted method of a bond election, the incurrence of debt necessary to initiate such service. . .

I do not believe my insistence that the public be fully informed and allowed to approve (or disapprove) the expenditure of the rather large amounts of public funds required for transit makes me (in Mr. Wornum's words) "destructive" or "against everything.". . .

Church Concerned For 'Street People'

The Session of St. Andrew Presbyterian Church, Marin City, wishes to reaffirm our church's concern for and ministry to the needs and welfare of the "street people" centered in the Sausalito area.

We are deeply disturbed by recent statements in the press which characterize these young people as something less than human beings and suggest they should have no place in our community. We realize that the appearance, dress, values and life styles of the street people do not conform to those of the majority, that many of them feel alienated from society and that a considerable number have problems and need help. We believe the response of the church and of the community should be not rejection, but an earnest attempt to understand and communicate with the young people. We believe we need to accept them for what they are and to minister compassionately to their needs and problems.

Therefore, we are continuing—as part of a cooperative effort by Southern Marin churches—to invite "street people" to utilize our church building as a place for temporary overnight lodging and limited kitchen use. . .

We request that individuals and the press in our county who disagree with the "street people" make an attempt to know them and hear their side of issues before criticizing or condemning them.

As a news editor or publisher who has printed Dr. John W. Gilbaugh's articles or is printing them, you might like to know and publish the fact that there is a statewide, grassroots support going on in his behalf for suggesting his name to the proper people for the position of president of San Jose State College. Many of his friends are writing to the chancellor of the state colleges and interest has been shown all over the state for him.

This needs to be publiished as soon as possible since the appointment of the position will be coming up within 10 days of this writing (March 15).

Why Is District Afraid Of Vote?

Re your story on the transport forum Saturday at the Civic Center, and Mr. (Michael) Wornum's remark, "Isn't it ironic that no one from the Golden Gate Commuters Association is present?"

It isn't ironic at all. Judging from Wornum's and the Golden Gate Bridge District's refusal to allow people who disagree with them to serve on the citizens advisory panel, it is obvious that they are only prepared to recognize people who are in concert with their policies.

We have asked this before, and we ask it again: Why is the Golden Gate Bridge District afraid to allow the people to vote on their "balanced transportation system"?

Organized Crime Finds Easy Marks In Business World

By ROSCOE AND GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

The underworld is increasingly and menacingly infiltrating legitimate business. The Mafia is succeeding in getting what it wants: the cover and concealment of honest business.

So far federal law-enforcement has only picked at the edges of this pervasive thrust of corporate-style criminal operations.

ORGANIZED CRIMINALS are moving faster than the law is able to move to catch up with them.

One big reason is that legitimate business doesn't realize what's happening, and in most instances businessmen are vulnerable because they just don't believe "it can happen to me."

It is happeilng and, when it does, they wake up too late to throw off the tentacles which have been planted upon them.

THE VERDICT of the Research Institute of America (a private organization in New York), delivered to its many industrial clients as a warning to begin to protect themselves, is this:

"Highly organized, disciplined, ruthless—and successful: That's how top Justice Department officials describe the underworld infiltration of legitimate business.

"Inadequate, disorganized, too timid and too late: That sums up the remedies available to the businessman who finds himself the victim."

THERE ARE POWERFUL reasons why organized crime is making legitimate business a major target. It can provide: (1) an apparently legal front, (2) a market for hot goods, (3) an outlet for investing huge capital, (4) cover for illegal payoffs, (5) the protection of respectability, (6) a valuable source of new power.

To lay hold of these assets, organized crime is becoming more sophisticated and daring all the time. It is almost invariably behind the loan-shark racket and bankruptcy swindles. It is exploiting manufacturing, wholesaling, retailing, banking, trade association trends, transportation enterprises.

The underworld today is the most active entrepreneur of all, ready to go into any business. Some major banking institutions and Wall Street security firms have been unwittingly drawn into the net.

Crime goes where legitimate business is most thriving. The air freight industry, for example, has increased 800 per cent in 15 years and now flies almost 2.5 billion ton miles a year. And what's happened? At a major airport the entire air freight trucking industry is controlled by organized crime. It is trapped between a racketeer-dominated trade union on the one hand and a racketeer trade association on the other.

WHAT CAN BUSINESS do to protect itself?

First, it can become acquainted with the strategy and tactics of organized criminals in order to take preventive measures.

The Research Institute of America advises executives to watch out for key employees who may be problem gamblers or imprudent enough to borrow from loan sharks, to guard against unions involved with a mob, and to make sure that the business is not loosely run with sloppy controls. These things make business particularly vulnerable.

A further step is now open. Whenever a businessman has the slightest suspicion that organized crime is involved in his industry, he can contact the Justice Department Strike Force Headquarters in his own city or in Washington.

Atty. Gen. John Mitchell says the Justice Department now has the money and the manpower "to finally launch a broad attack on organized crime."

It's needed as never before.

Overt Racism Deplored, But Racist Customs Persist

By LOUIS CASSELS
UPI Senior Editor

Many white Americans who sincerely abhor any open display of racial prejudice are implicated in the maintenance of customs, procedures and structures which indirectly have a racist effect.

That is the argument of a pamphlet published by the U. S. Civil Rights Commission for the avowed purpose of stimulating public discussion of what constitutes racism.

THE BOOKLET, entitled "Racism in America", was written for the commission by a social scientist, Dr. Anthony Downs. Formerlly on the faculty of the University of Chicago, Downs is now consultont to the Rand Corporation.

Downs, a white man, says America has made "important progress" during the past 20 years toward elimination of legal support for "most forms of overt racism," such as segregated public facilities.

Progress also has been made in attitudes. Conscious and deliberate subordination by color is now considered wrong by most Americans."

But this does not mean American society has been purged of racial discrimination. Negroes, Puerto Ricans, Mexican Americans, Japanese Americans, Chinese Americans, American Indians and others with colored skins still suffer daily because of "institutional subordination by color" that has been built into the U. S. economic and social system.

DOWNS OFFERS two examples of what he means by "institutional subordination."

A contractor announces that he will hire carpenters solely on the basis of skill, without regard to race. But the skills he requires can be developed only through long apprenticeship, and the local carpenters union refuses to accept black apprentices.

So the only eligible applicants turn out to be white. The contractor has taken what he regards as a very reasonable, non-racist position —but the ultimate effect is the same as a policy of frank racial discrimination in hiring.

A new plant is built on the outskirts of a community. It creates a lot of new jobs. But the principal beneficiaries are white people who live in the nearby suburbs, because it is very difficult to commute to the plant from the inner city. Thus, even though the plant may sincerely offer to hire applicants without regard to race, its offer is negated by the indirect effects of the racism practiced by white realtors, renting agents, landlords and homeowners who discourage colored families from obtaining homes in segregated suburbs. Downs concludes that "institutional subordination" occurs whenever access to good jobs or schools or any other avenue of opportunity depends on living in areas from which non-whites are systematically excluded, or on "personal qualifications or skills which minority group members have not been permitted to achieve because of past overt racism."

"In recent years, more whites have become conscious of overt racism," he says. "Yet they still do not realize how many of their everyday actions continue to indirectly subordinate minority group members."

Sausalito Traffic Diversion Plan Threatens Council With Valhalla

The Sausalito City Council's clever plan to divert tourist traffic into Sausalito from the north by changing the signs on Highway 101 at the city's south end to read "Alexander Avenue," rather than "Sausalito" is moving right along, according to city Mgr.George M. Patterson.

Patterson said the division of Highways has agreed to make the sign change, which the city council feels will eliminate some of the auto jam which clogs the southern route into Sausalito on Sundays and holidays.

MEANWHILE, Sally Stanford, owner of the Valhalla Inn on Alexander Avenue (the Southern route) is listening closely, hinting at a lawsuit when she hears the first bolt being removed from the first "Sausalito" sign.

Miss Stanford says flatly that she will sue both the city and the Division of Highways if they proceed with the plan, charging it will ruin her business.

"They built the Sausalito lateral (into the city from the south) with gas tax funds and are planning to make the change with those same funds," she said, "and, as a contributor to the state highway fund and a taxpayer, I protest."

Miss Stanford promises gamely that she will "tie them up (in court) until the cows come home." Also, she has cynically offered the city the use of two large bronze gates which she owns, currently gracing a Sausalito nursery yard. "If the city really wants to keep the tourists out of Sausalito, all they'll have to do is close the gates," she said testily. "I don't see why they should stop with half measures."

THE SAUSALITO school District board's decision to eliminate several staff positions next year for budget reasons, including the jobs of James T. Toliver Jr., vice principal at Marin Luther King School, and Rae Richardson, the district's multi-ethnic coordinator, was supposedly made final last week.

But some parents and students in the district have indicated they have no intention of letting the matter rest there.

When King Principal Sidney F. Walton Jr. showed up for school last Friday, the morning after the board decision, he found about 50 students, black and white, bearing placards asking that Toliver be reinstated next year and refusing to go to their classes.

Walton convinced the youngsters to go to class and urged them to follow student grievance procedures in making their protest, and the students are doing just that. They are composing letters protesting the board action in their language arts classes and plan to forward them to trustees and Supt. Phillip W. Schneider.

In addition, the youngsters, some of whom made impassioned pleas for Toliver's retention at the board meeting, are urging their parents to contact trustees and show their support for Toliver.

Royce McLemore, whose daughter attends King School, said some parents are asking the board for a public meeting to discuss the personal cuts before any further action is taken on the matter.

Election Expense Probe Proposed

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—The high cost of running for the legislature would be investigated by a special commission under a resolution approved by the Assembly Elections and Reapportionment Committee.

"To elect an assemblyman in some districts it costs more than $100,000," Assemblyman Vincent Thomas, D-San Pedro, testified before the panel Thursday forwarded his measure to the Ways and Means Committee.

The measure authorizes the governor to appoint lawmakers, judges and businessmen and persons from other fields to serve on a bipartisan "Commission on Campaign Financing." The commission would issue its recommendations next March.

The bill is a spinoff from the controversy over acceptance of a $5,000 campaign contribution from a lobby organization last year by Senate leader Jack Schrade, R-San Diego. He is not up for reelection until 1972.

Billiard Hall Theft

Parts of a pool table were stolen in a March 9 burglary of Town and Country Billiards, 1417 Bridgeway, Sausalito police have reported. Owner Alec Liu told police entry was gained by kicking open a door in the building's garage.

Draft Foe Renounces Citizen Status, Now Faces Deportation

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Board of Immigration Appeals Thursday ordered the deportation of an American-born citizen who renounced his U. S. citizenship in Canada to avoid being drafted for the Vietnam War.

In a 4-1 decision, the board gave Thomas Glenn Jolley of Atlanta 90 days in which to voluntarily leave the country or face deportation.

It upheld the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) which found he fled to Canada "with the hot breath of the draft at his back," then renounced his citizenship in Toronto.

The case is regarded as unique in the Vietnam War and possibly in all American wars. No similar cases are pending though there are estimated to be several thousand draft-evaders in Canada and other countries.

In a decision by board chairman Maurice A. Roberts, the board found that Jolley was clearly "motivated by his desire to avoid induction in our armed forces" when he orally renounced his citizenship before the U. S. Consul in Toronto.

"That his desire may have been based on conscientious scruples, does not, in our view, make his active renunciation any the less deliberate or voluntary," the board said.

The lone dissenter, Anthony L. Montaquila, said Jolley's act "was not a normal act of renuncation. He did not acquire a new nationality but became a 'man without a country.' The possibility of deportation is remote, if not, indeed, improbable."

The main issue before the board was whether Jolley, who had unsuccessfully sought conscientious objector status, had renounced his citizenship voluntarily or under pressure of Army service.

Born Jan. 26, 1944, Jolley had a student deferment from the draft when he and his American born wife, the former Margaret Elizabeth Thompson of Atlanta, entered Canada March 31, 1967,

He wrote his draft board in Bremen, Ga., from their home in Toronto April 7, 1967, seeking a conscientious objector draft classification. Instead, the draft board notified him April 18 that he had been classified 1A.

INS investigators said Jolley took his wife to the U.S. consultate in Toronto May 16, 1967, and formally renounced his citizenship. The next day he mailed his Selective Service cards back to his draft board with a letter saying he had renounced his citizenship "thus terminating all obligation to the United States."

Jolley re-entered the United States at Detroit late in 1967, was subsequently declared an alien, and ordered deported by INS because "he had remained outside the United States to avoid or evade training or service in the armed forces in time of war and national emergency."

The board's decision may be further appealed to the U.S. circuit Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia.

Terra Linda Rec Director Resigns

The Terra Linda Recreation and Park District board has accepted the resignation of its recreation director, James L. Husband. The resignation becomes effective March 31, he reported yesterday.

Husband told the Independent-Journal the board accepted the resignation Tuesday night while in closed session. He said he would not comment on the reasons for leaving.

Data Processing: White Elephant With Ever-Growing Appetite

Fusselman

Repeating the paragraph from last Friday's column: "Now consider this: The budget for the data processing department is $606,868; of this $344,150 is charged to other departments for work done. This leaves $262,718 you are paying for the pleasure of its company."

This operation is directly under Bruce even though there is a department head. Bruce came to me in 1961 and wanted me to go along with his desire to take it away from the auditor-controller and put it under him. He has been at it ever since until now he has it. You know, "I'm going to run this county and don't you ever forget in."

IN THE BEGINNING I was for setting up the department and probably made the motion to establish it. It was located at the ground level of the annex and most of us passed its big windows six or more times a day. I was intensely interested and would drop in to watch the work going on and talk to the folks from time to time.

It gradually dawned on me that we had a white elephant on our hands. About that time a full page article appeared in Time Magazine, written by an executive of a firm producing computers. It was a discussion of a survey which showed that nation-wide machines were in operation only 50 per cent of the time.

Shortly after reading that I happend to be parked across the street from the courthouse, while Billie was doing some shopping, and one of the department's employees came up to the car to talk to me. I asked him how things were going and he told me that he had just finished a survey job that had been assigned him and that it showed that the equipment was used only 30 per cent of the time. I didn't discuss this with anyone as I knew it would mean his neck.

ABOUT SIX MONTHS later the then administrator, Don Jensen, told the board that they had increased the output in a big way. I asked him how much and he answered 50 per cent. This sounded fine but was misleading. You see, an increase of 50 per cent still meant only 45 per cent production usage, or less than half time.

Shortly after that, on recommendation of the administrator, the county entered into a contract with an efficiency firm for something like $10,000. They said that they would ultimately contract back with the county, for use of the equipment, for that amount or more. I was against this. It didn't look good to me. I developed into a mess. The county was stuck with a never-revealed. amount.

FROM TIME to time I would suggest that we explore the possibility of having the computer work done by some firm such as the Shell Oil Co., who did work for others to fill in their unused time. The preliminary work could be done here and would involve only transportation costs as compared with costly rental of the equipment. I could'n't make a dent in the prevailing grand manner of doing things. The idea was too simple.

Now, the word is that the present operation doesn't change the picture much. Some of the work is good but the cost factor is not.

The budget figures, themselves, show this. The bookkeeping gimmick of charging the other county departments for work done for them doesn't change the fact that it is costing you $606,868 a year to maintain this, and $262,718 of this is for unproductive time. Electronic developments make it now possible to use telephone lines for transmittal to large computer firms both going and coming. This should be investigated.

The county has an obligation to the employees of the department, to see that they are absorbed by other operations in the area. I hear that there is a considerable turnover of personnel at all times.

San Rafael Schools' Red Ink Discussed

San Rafael Board of Education opened its budget season last night with a look at estimated deficits and ways the deficits could be met.

Board members also spent a good share of the meeting talking about informing voters about the tax rate hike election June 2.

The board is seeking a 40-cent increase in the elementary district general purpose tax rate and a 30-cent increase in the high school district rate.

Business Mgr. Charles L. Condrotte estimated there would be a deficit of $174,856 in the elementary district in 1970-71 and a deficit of $292,856 in the high school district.

TEACHER RAISES

He said the preliminary budget drafts included a 5 per cent hike in the teacher salary schedule.

Condrotte estimated the income in the high school district for 1970-71 would be $4,797,410 and expenditures, $5,090,266.

CUTS PROPOSED

Supt. John F. Plank presented a list of cuts recommended by a budget committee of staff and administrators which could eliminate the expected deficit.

The recommended cuts, without any priority assigned, included reducing repair and maintenance, eliminating purchase of major equipment, eliminating transportation except for educable mentally retarded, eliminating the single session kindergarten, eliminating travel and conference funds, discontinuing support for extracurricular activities at high schools such as athletics and drama, and cutting the administrative staff.

NO ACTION YET

Board members took no action, pointing out there would be several budget sessions in the coming weeks and they want to consider proposed cuts carefully.

On preparation for the tax rate election, Howard Council, chairman of the subcommittee on public relations of the Citizens Advisory Committee, urged the board and staff to give the public straight answers in language the voter can understand.

Donald R. Wellington, chairman of the subcommittee on budget and finance of the Citizens Advisory Committee said campaigners should avoid "the technique of using threats, which has proved singularly unsuccessful in the past."

Board Member Lawrence I. Kramer Jr. said the opinions of the taxpayers and the students should be sought to determine what priorities they have in mind.

NEXT SESSION

Board members agreed to continue budget discussions at their next session at 7:30 Tuesday at the Administration Building, Third and E streets.

A request from the San Rafael Teachers Association for additional release time this term for parent-teacher conferences, was denied.

Teachers aksed for a work day April 3, with school closed for pupils in kindergarten through sixth grade.

Plank explained that the request came late, since conference notices have gone out, and parents were averse to cutting another day out of the school year.

Redwood Students Slated For Telecast

Two students and a teacher will explain the International Student Exchange program at Redwood High School (RISE) Sunday at 12:30 p.m. on television KTVU.

The students, Peter Eichinger from Preetz, Germany, Eva Smekens of Greenbrae and Robert J. Mautner, French teacher and president of RISE will be panelists on a talk-show moderated by Ray Jacobs.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Wednesday night is not notably a busy night for most restaurants, but there is one exception in San Rafael.

The location is Cal's Steak House at Third and C Streets. Food and prices are always an attraction here, but for the past four months a group made up almost entirely of Marin businessmen, who call themselves the Marin Banjo Band, has been pulling in a full house week after week.

Talented amateurs, there are about 15 of them in all (this figure may change from week to week if someone fails to show).

You can count 11 banjoists, a piano player, tuba player, a "gut bucket" and a young fellow by the name of Howard Hoeflin, who is truly amazing on the drums. A gut bucket, if you are not familiar with the term, is made from a stick, an upturned galvanized wash tub and a gut A-string from a base viol, for which it makes an excellent substitute.

Headed by Marin architect Milt Chambers, you'll find a surgeon, insurance men, salesmen, engineers, business owners and even a butler strumming out old-time and popular tunes with as much enthusiasm and enjoyment as the audience who listens to them. For two hours from 8 to 10 p.m. every Wednesday they escape from the strain of business into the estatic world of producing harmony.

You will be seeing and hearing more about this group, I know - probably on the television screen.

All this is carried out in Cal's inimitable western-like atmosphere. The decor features old guns, steer horns, Indian tomtoms, chaps, cougar skins, bucksaws and western hats, most of which are suspended from the ceiling along with the wagon wheel chandeliers.

Seating arrangements are functional, provided by redwood tables and benches. And such is the pervading spirit of friendliness that you slide over and let someone share your accommodations in a packed house.

You can get a huge steak for under $3 and an equally immense pitcher of beer for something like $1.75 - the popular serving here. There is also a good selection of wines.

LOOK FOR the Sand Dollar to reopen for the spring season on April 3.

Al Engel will be there supervising the cooking and dining room and Bob Hammond will be at the bar. If these names seem familiar to you, even though you may have never eaten at the San Dollar before, it's because they were the former operations of Gland Hand in Sausalito before the Scomas and the Gottis bought it and changed the name to Scoma's Gland Hand.

Dinners will be served at the Sand Dollar on Fridays and Saturdays from 5:30 p.m. and on Sundays from 4 p.m. In the summer Thursdays will also be added to the dinner schedule.

The menu will be much the same as it used to be at the Gland Hand, with a few more fish dishes and a different special for each night. The restaurant has a full general onsale liquor license for its nine-month season.

SOMETIME THIS YEAR you may find a new steak and lobster restaurant open on Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael.

Negotiations are still in progress but if they are completed this place will be a de luxe establishment with a cocktail lounge for a Colorado-based organization (not a franchised operation).

WORD FROM Gregory Seubert in Mendocino County is that the Noyo River Inn at Fort Bragg won't be able to have an Easter opening - too many of the little, picky things to be completed. He's now setting his sights on the middle of April.

AND SPEAKING of Easter, which is early this year (March 29), it's not too early now to make reservations at your favorite dinery for dinner.

Easter and Mother's Day are the two biggest days of the year for restaurants and you can expect them to have well filled tables. This is also true for those that serve an Easter brunch.

THE JACK SHELDON TRIO, with TV's laugh getter Jack Sheldon, along with Joe Mondragon on bass and Churck Burghoffer on drums, will provide the entertainment at Gatsby's in Sausalito Wednesday through Sunday evenings next Wednesday through April 5.

This gives regular entertainers Jean Hoffman, Nat Johnson and Al Pimental a chance for that two - week vacation they have been looking for. They'll be back on April 8.

Jack Sheldon, his horn and wit have been popular on many of the big television shows and he's had a number of recordings.

They are the proud parents of a new baby girl. All three are doing fine.

IN FORMAL SETTINGS, if more than one wine is served, the wine glasses are placed to the right of the water glasses. The wine glasses are used in turn starting from the outside, so that each may be removed easily.

If the meal is an elaborate banquet and several wines are served, there are never more than three wine glasses on the table at the same time. Instead, they are exchanged as each course is finished.

The wine decanter is often popular at informal repasts, both in restaurants for the "house wine" and at home.

If can be filled from large containers which are less expensive in the long run than fifths. Also you can use the decanter as a set-up to trap the individual who claims he knows all about wines. It's surprising how many more experts there are on the outside label than on what may be inside the bottle.

THERE'S A NEW maitre d' by the name of Ken Stone at the dining room of Holiday Inn, Terra Linda.

If it appears that you have met him somewhere before - it's quite possible you have. He was formerly manager at the Elks Club in San Rafael.

But Ken has managed institutions in Europe, the Far East and other spots in California. He was born in Germany, where his family owned a hotel for nine generations. His appreticeship was both in Germany and in Switzerland. He has a B. A. degree in hotel and restaurant administration from the University of Geneva.

COFFEE WAS NEVER quite the soberer-up you thought it was.

Experiments at the Indiana School of Medicine have shown that all it does it give the liver time to work off the alcohol.

Cotati City Manager Will Leave Post

The Cotati City Council last night accepted the resignation of City Mgr. Gordon H. Howe, effective June 1.

Howe, 68, said ill health requires him to limit his activities. Howe had been named as the city's first manager in September 1968. He had formerly been city manager at Seaside and Saratoga as well as a building inspector with the Sonoma School District.

The council directed Howe to advertise for a replacement and to work with his successor for at least two weeks before turning over the job.

Howe said he planned to travel after his retirement, but would be on hand later to serve in an advisory capacity.

The Cotati City Council also:

DISPATCHER — Approved an agreement for Rohnert Park to serve as police dispatcher center for Cotati at a cost of $450 per month beginning April 1.

FOUNTAIN — Asked Mayor Frank P. Dolinsek to go ahead with plans to build a fountain in the park plaza. Donations for the fountain total more than $800.

STREETS — Approved the purchase of $204 in tools and $65 for a portable tachometer for the street department.

Strike Is Threatened Over Pay

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA—County of Sonoma clerical workers will seek strike sanction next week from the Sonoma County Labor Council in hopes of getting a proposed 5 per cent salary increase raised to 10 per cent.

County Administrator David L. Nichols said he had had no contact with representatives of Local No. 3 of the Office and Professional Workers and said no talks have been scheduled.

George Davis, union spokesman, said the 80 clerks had voted by a 4-1 margin for the strike and will seek sanction from the labor council Wednesday in Petaluma.

The board of supervisors had approved a 5 per cent increase effective July 1 and a 2.5 per cent cost-of-living increase in March 1971.

The organized clerical workers represent staffs in law enforcement, probation and the district attorney's office as well as two of the four superior court judges' secretaries.

Last year clerks received a 2.5 per cent increase while other county employees received as much as 10 per cent.

Hanoi Troops Move Near Laotian Base

VIENTIANE (UPI) — North Vietnamese troops closed to within 1½ miles of the U.S.-Laotian base at Long Cheng today for what shaped up to be a decisive battle for control of northern Laos.

Military sources said reinforcements were being rushed into the area 75 miles northeast of Vientiane from all parts of Laos. Laotian fibhter - bombers kept the guerrillas under constant bombardment.

The Laotian government said Long Cheng's sister camp, Sam Thong, six miles to the northeast, had been recaptured from North Vietnamese troops after two days of heavy fighting but was still threatened. Unconfirmed reports said two outposts to the north and northeast of Sam Thong-Long Cheng had been lost during the night and that a hilltop camp at Tha Tam Dlung, six miles northeast of Sam Thong, was abandoned.

An estimated 3,000 North Vietnamese troops were reported in the hilly region, having moved in after the capture of the Plain of Jars five weeks ago.

Ten long-range rockets slammed into Long Cheng, headquarters for Gen. Vang Pao's U.S. - supported cladestine army, during the night. No casualties were reported.

By noon today, military sources said the propeller-driven T28 fighter-bombers had flown 15 missions around Long Cheng, hitting guerrilla troops as close as 1 1-2 miles to the airstrip.

Military sources said the North Vietnamese push against the base, with Sam Thong the last major government enclave in northern Laos, was apparently timed to reach a climax within the next few days. They said the final drive would coincide with the celebration of the government's Army Day in Vientiane Monday and possibly with the arrival of a Pathet Lao official from Hanoi carrying the guerrilla peace plan.

The reinforcements pouring into the Sam Thong-Long Cheng area were said to include mercenaries trained in Thailand, the same ones used to rescue Sam Thong from the North Vietnamese Thursday.

Col. Thongpanh Knocksy, the Laotian defense ministry spokesman, announced the recapture of Sam Thong at a news conference. Twenty government troops were killed and 100 wounded in the fighting.

Richardson Bay Bridge Funds Still Frozen

A district spokesman for the Division of Highways in San Francisco has reported he erred yesterday in reporting to the Independent-Journal that funds for the widening of Richardson Bay Bridge had been released by the state Highway Commission.

The funds, $1.6 million for the first year of the 18 month project, were among those frozen by Gov. Ronald Reagan last fall to fight inflation. In correcting his error, the spokesman said the total amount for the project, $3.1 million, was expected to be approved in the near future, and he expressed hopes that the widening would begin on time in December.

Construction of shoulders and the resurfacing of a four mile section of Highway 101 in Sonoma County was approved yesterday by the commission. The $750,000 project between Petaluma and Lakeville Road includes replacement of two bridges and modification of two others.

Nixon Pleads For Small Businessman

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Citing his father's experience as the owner of a small grocery store in California, President Nixon urged Congress today to ease the financial squeeze on small business enterprises through special tax breaks and changes in lending regulations.

Nixon's message included proposals to allow money lenders to deduct 20 per cent of the interest earned on loans to small businesses from income for tax purposes and to extend and simplify the program through which the Small Business Administration guarantees loans to small businesses.

He also proposed changes in the tax laws to make it easier for a small business to be treated like a partnership and to extend from five to ten years the period during which small businesses may carry forward losses as deductions against income in subsequent years.

Today is Friday, March 20, the 79th day of 1970 with 286 to follow. Spring begins today at 4:57 p.m. (PST).

The moon is approaching its full phase. The morning stars are Mercury and Jupiter. The evening stars are Venus, Mars and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1941 Gen. Douglas MacArthur, commander-in-chief of the Allied Forces in the Pacific, issued his famous "I shall return" pledge as the Japanese occupied most of the Philippines. Thirty months later he returned victorious from Australia.

In 1951 Argentine dictator Juan Peron seized control of the opposition newspaper "La Prensa."

In 1963 a volcano on the East Indian island of Bali began erupting. The eventual death toll was more than 1,000.

In 1968 Israel launched heavy attacks on terrorist bases in Arab Jordan.

A thought for the day: British biologist Thomas Henry said, "Veracity is the heart of morality."

Areas Selected For Cleanup Gatherings

Four areas on Mount Tamalpais, Rock Springs, Pantoll, Four Corners and Boo tjack, have been chosen by the Mill Valley Youth Commission as meeting sites for the young people who will participate in the April 4 cleanup of the mountain.

The commission Wednesday also tentatively set May 29 and 30 as the date for its musical festival, which will include preformances by many local groups.

Key To Victory Is In Taking A Finesse With The Club Queen

Most history books omit the fact that Sir Isaac Newton began to think seriously about finesses when an apple dropped from a tree and hit him squarely on the noggin. The shock reminded Sir Isaac of his partner after the great mathematician had played the hand shown today.

FIRST THREE TRICKS

West led the queen of spades, and the defenders rattled off the first three tricks. East then returned a trump, and Sir Isaac won this in dummy with the eight of hearts.

Declarer's next step was to lead the singleton club from dummy. East played low, and Sir Isaac's mind wandered. "How would it be if all bodies exerted a force of attraction on each other?" he mused. "That force would probably vary inversely with something or other. If it isn't too complicated, I can get it written up in some bridge column in a few hundred years."

And the next thing you know Sir Isaac had played the ace of clubs from his hand.

GETS NINE TRICKS

There was no recovery from this blunder. Sir Isaac could get seven trump tricks by crossruffing, together with the two side aces. These came to a total of nine tricks, and the great mathematician was down one.

"Can't you count?" North demanded. And he went on from there, pointing out that the merest school child could count that seven trumps and two aces came to only nine tricks. Newton's only real chance for the game was to try a finesse with the queen of clubs. When this succeeded, he would crossruff and get 10 tricks instead of only nine.

NO BETTER PROOF

You won't find this story in many of the history books, but they all tell you about Newton's discovery of the law of gravitation, and you couldn't want any better proof than that.

Hub Youth Panel Plans Protest On Appointments

The San Anselmo Youth Commission has agreed it will protest certain auspices under which it was established to the San Anselmo City Council.

"We approved protesting appointment by the city council at the next city council meeting," said Janet Guastavino, a 16-year-old commissioner. "If you are appointed by the council, then no matter how youth feels, the possibility remains that they may not be represented," she added.

The seven commissioners, all from Sir Francis Drake High School, were appointed to the commission last week after they had been elected by their peers at an earlier meeting.

Miss Guastavino said the commission also set the age limits for eligibility on the commission. Limits run from 12 to 20, she said, since at 21 years of age, a person is eligible for election to the city council.

The commission also set the term of office for its members at one year beginning in June.

Meeting at the Isabel Cook School Wednesday night, the commission discussed plans for a general cleanup of trash in San Anselmo and Mount Tamalpais. No date was set.

Commissioners appointed last week are: Jerry Suyderhoud, 16, chairman of the commission; Paul Stadnik, 17; Bart S. Ziegler, 17; Channing May, 16; Steve Jensen, 16; Mark Adler, 17, and Janet Guastavino, 16.

Assault Case Hearing Set

A preliminary hearing was set yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for Monday for John Harold Von Feldt, 35, of San Rafael, who is accused of a felony charge of assaulting a San Rafael police officer.

Von Feldt was arrested Tuesday on suspicion of disturbing the peace after he allegedly pushed his car into another man's vehicle and then let the air out of the tires of the man's car in a San Rafael grocery store parking lot.

The officer said that when he was driving Von Feldt to the county jail, Von Feldt climbed over the seat and landed in his lap, causing him to lose control of the car.

Auto Theft Case To Superior Court

Peter Alphonse LaRocca, 19, of San Francisco, yesterday was bound over to Marin Superior Court on a charge of car theft after a preliminary hearing in municipal court. He is to appear in superior court Monday for arraignment.

LaRocca and two younger youths were first stopped by an officer in a reportedly stolen car near Point Reyes, but LaRocca and another passenger fled. They then reportedly took a car in Olema and were finally stopped several miles away.

Cash Is Stolen

A thief stole $160 in cash late Monday or early Tuesday from Northgate Shoe Repair, 244 Northgate Shopping Center, San Rafael police have reported.

Living Costs Soar Again In February

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs continued rising in February at the swiftest pace in 20 years with big hikes for food, clothing and home mortgage interest making up most of the month's increase, the government said today.

The Labor Department's Consumer Price Index rose five-tenths of one per cent for the month to 132.5, meaning it costs $13.25 for every $10 worth of living costs in the 1957-59 base period.

The February rise in living costs brought them to a point 6.3 per cent above a year ago, reducing the value of the 1957-59 dollar from 80.3 cents to 75.5 cents.

In February, food prices rose six-tenths of one per cent and were 7.9 per cent above a year earlier. Housing costs were up eight-tenths of one per cent for the month and 7.2 per cent for the year. Clothing rose five-tenths of one per cent in February and was 4.9 per cent above a year earlier.

Recreation costs were up one-tenth of one per cent for the month and 3.7 per cent for the year.

The only major price category to remain unchanged in February was transportation, which was still 4.3 per cent above a year earlier.

Youths Will Publish List Of All June Candidates

Marin Youth Commission members decided last night they will publish a list of all city, county and state candidates for the June election so that youth may participate in the campaigns.

Commissioner Ann Elliott was named to compile the list of candidates.

Chairman Mark W. Tracy announced that Marin's drive for signatures to put the voting age measure on the November ballot is still far short of the county goal of 10,000 names. Only about 2,000 have been collected so far, and the drive will continue through the end of this month.

The commissioners are supporting the measure asking voters of the state to lower the voting age from 21 to 18.

In other action, commissioners appointed Tracy to attend an all-day youth conference is Edgewater Inn at Corte Madera on March 31. The conference is sponsored by the Governor's Advisory Committee on Children and Youth, Subcommittee on Justice.

Youth coordinator Gwen M. Monroe said representatives from probation departments, juvenile delinquency prevention, juvenile justice and youth commissions from Northern California have been invited to the conference.

Next meeting of the youth commission will be held at 7:30 p.m. next Thursday, at Civic Center.

Injuries Minor In Auto Crash

A 47-year-old Novato man suffered a cut nose and shoulder injury last night when his car struck the rear of another auto on Highway 101 at the Pacheco Creek overcrossing near Novato, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The victim, Robert W. Hachmyer of 1426 Dawes Street, was reported in good condition today in Novato General Hospital where he was held overnight for observation.

The other motorist, Joseph D. Elsberry, 48, of 30 San Joaquin Place, Novato, was booked into Marin County Jail on suspicion of felony drunken driving and posted $1,150 bail to appear in Marin Municipal Court Tuesday.

The accident happened at 10:35 p.m.

Jury Delivers Guilty Verdict

A Marin Superior Court jury deliberated about four hours yesterday before finding Karen Elaine Gowel, 23, of Mill Valley, guilty of a felony charge of possessing cocaine.

Miss Gowel had claimed that the drug, which was found in her purse when she was arrested last May 5 on traffic warrants, belonged to someone else.

Judge Harold J. Haley set sentencing for Miss Gowel, who was defended by attorney Michael Stepanian of San Francisco, for April 23. The case was prosecuted by Ernest Zunino, deputy district attorney.

Candidate Visit Set

Sen. John L. Harmer, R-Glendale, candidate for state attorney general, will speak at a no-host cocktail reception from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. on Monday at Sabella's Restaurant, Mill Valley. The reception is sponsored by the Marin County Republican Central Committee.

Some people collect jade, others fancy antique glass or china, cigar bands or first editions. Sadly enough we have a buyer who seems to collect coffee tables - the larger the better.

We first noted this condition when there was no more room for sofas, then dining sets began to go and finally the addition of a glass topped wrought iron six foot table to the executive washroom showed the error of his ways.

A partial inventory shows 4 to 6 ft. tables of Mediterranean, French, Tudor and Contemporary design. Tables of Ash, Walnut, Oak, Wormy Chestnut, Wrought Iron, Plexiglass, Chrome Steel etc. SO WE JUST HAVE TO DO SOMETHING ABOUT IT!

Taxes Take Limelight At Hearing

What had been billed as a second meeting on discipline at Rancho School in Novato last night turned out to be just an explanation of the need for an increase of 35 cents in the tax rate for the Novato Unified School District.

President Wilkes Lou Johnson of the Rancho Parent-Teachers Association, said that because there was apparently no new complaint on discipline by any of the 115, members present, the meeting would be devoted to the tax increase. No parent objected to the meeting being devoted to the one subject.

Principal Rex Rolle said that everything relating to discipline had been covered at lastweek's meeting of the teachers and students.

"If things come up in the future which we should talk about, we will set up meetings later," Rolle said. He hoped that parents and faculty would have other such meetings, he added.

Trustee William Schneeflock said that the district had been dependent on the federal government for 22 per cent of its income through Public Law 874, but was becoming "disenchanted with state and federal funds."

He said that the district had tried to get a commitment from Hamilton Air Force Base on the number of students to expect next year, but had not received it.

"To continue our quality of education, we must raise more local taxes, he said.

The district is asking for an increase in the ceiling of 85 cents which would raise the operating tax ceiling $3.48 to $4.33 for four years. He said that the trustees expected to use this at 20 to 25 cents additional per year. Total tax rate this year is $5.345 per $100 assessed valuation.

When asked what the district would do if it did not pass he said it could eliminate some busing, cut the number of high school periods, cut counselors, psychologists and librarians.

Tax Hike Asked

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Los Angeles school officials, faced with a budget deficit of between $36 million and $47 million, asked district voters today to approve a $1.31 increase in the general purpose tax rate.

Brandt Reports Hopes For East German Talks

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Willy Brandt told his Parliament today his first meeting with East German Premier Willi Stoph made him more confident that the hardships of Germany's division can be eased.

But Brandt warned the Bundestag that the long talks Thursday in Erfurt, East Germany, gave him no hope of agreement on questions of principle.

"The government of the GDR (East Germany) has made a series of demands which are unfulfillable because they have either no legal or no moral basis," he told the lower house of parliament.

The chief unacceptable demand, he said, was for full international recognition of the East German Communist regime by Brandt's government.

Brandt said earlier that the "most politically important" result of the meeting was the agreement they would meet again on May 12, in Kassel West Germany. He told the Bundestag that in the eight weeks intervening, he and his Cabinet would "consider what conclusions . . . can be drawn from the Erfurt meeting and in what way practical results can be striven for at Kassel."

"That such practical results are possible," he continued, "that a gradual amelioration of the consequences of the division of Germany is conceivable, I consider more possible today than I did the day before yesterday . . .

"I consider this possible, although I cannot see how a reconciliation of views in questions of principle can be achieved. The government of the GDR is concentrating entirely on recognition . . . without showing what positive changes it envisions for coexistence between Germans and for cooperation between the two states in

What's With These Women?

By BARBARA HOSMER

We've been here a long time, they say, and our turn has come. Do not define us in terms of someone else. We are more than wives, mothers, widows and co-eds. We are first ourselves, and secondly wives, mothers, teachers and grandmas of somebody else.

They are pushing to be free to aspire to achieve what they will, to win recognition for their achievements, to speak beyond chatter and be heard, to win entry to the learned professional societies, to ride race horses and play pro basketball if they wish.

THAT'S WHY Lenore Romney is running for the U.S. Senate in the Michigan primary, that's why Sally Stanford filed suit in Marin Superior Court to allow women employees to tend bar, that's why Dr. Roberta Fenlon of San Francisco became the first woman president of the state medical association, that's why radical women burned bras outside a Miss America pageant in Atlantic City, that's why an angry band of girls stormed the the doors of a male judo class at the University of California, and that's why a group of business women invaded the Squire Room men's bar at the Fairmont Hotel. It's why the National Organization of Women is forming a Marin County chapter.

It's why 100 women sat in the male editor's office at the Ladies Home Journal for 11 hours Wednesday demanding an all-woman editorial staff.

It's also why Assembly Bill 22 to amend the California Fair Employment Practice Act to prohibit sex discrimination in employment made it through the State Assembly Labor Relations Committee last week and is up for hearing by the Assembly Ways and Means Committee. AB 22 has a long way to go to become law—if passed by the Assembly Ways and Means Committee and then the Assembly, the Senate Labor and Finance Committees will have their chance at it. Then the Senate must pass it and the governor sign it.

But the climate behind such equality legislation is building. Restrictions on legalized abortion are falling state by state—with Hawaii, New York and Maryland dropping most of the restrictions, and petitions circulating throughout California now to put on the ballot a similarly liberal law.

SUCH LEGAL MEASURES that remove female restrictions are gaining a new wider and more vital support among women across the country, and in turn, from the legislators whom they help to elect.

Generally termed women's liberation or the feminist movement, a variety of feelings and actions are growing on several levels. Radical college-age and post-college women are acting out their wants in a generalized theater of the absurd that grabs headlines, while more moderate professional women renew their push to move the system toward female equality through new legislation and strict enforcement of existing equality laws. Housewives are being reawakened to the cause, which began in America some 140 years ago with the growth of the abolitionist movement and has continually become derailed ever since.

Nearly every sociologist speaking on the "woman question" through the Sixties has agreed that women's role is changing. But to what they don't answer.

Women in the new liberation movement are coming up with plenty of answers and if they have their way, radical changes may reverberate throughout American society.

Women Should Learn About The Cars They Are Driving

By SANDI GOULD

FINDLAY, Ohio (UPI)—The man of the house should not really be too excited if the family car doesn't start and he finds such things as nylon net, a nylon stocking, or even a pot roast under the hood.

It's just that his wife is learning the different engine parts and what they do.

Women from the Community Relations and Program Services Division of the Marathon Oil Co. here are teaching women drivers about cars by association.

They call it "Powderpuffs and Pistons," and have presented their colorful topic to more than 13,000 women since 1964 when the idea originated.

"Women should come from behind the stove and learn about the car she is driving," said Paula Powell, one of the 12 women who cover the state, delivering "Powderpuffs and Pistons" to driver education classes and women's groups.

"We have also talked to men's groups," Miss Powell said. "The men get quite a laugh out of it."

The program informs the woman about the car and what makes it go.

"Often times when the woman asks her husband about the car, he either laughs, or uses language above her head," Miss Powell said.

"We don't want the woman to be 'hooked' when she takes a car to a garage for service. The woman wants to know about the car and doesn't want to be crucified when she puts a dent in the fender."

In the presentation, the women construct a colorful flannel-graph display, depicting the car parts and associated symbols.

They use a piece of green and white checked gingham to represent the radiator. They explain that the piece of material is associated with coolness and the radiator is a cooling device.

They also use blue denim to represent the battery, because, as they point out, the battery and the denim are both durable.

For the engine block, they use a piece of black and white blocked print.

"The nylon stocking is an excellent repair kit for the fan belt until a broken fan belt can be repaired," Miss Powell said.

They also borrowed a household hint to include in their presentation. The women explain that nylon net used as a cleaning pad doesn't scratch or mar the surface.

In 'Powerpuffs and Pistons,' the nylon net symbolizes the air and oil filter, which is described as the cleaning agent of the car.

Gasoline is symbolized as perfume, Miss Powell said, because gasoline is the go-power and perfume is the woman's go-power.

Feathers are used to represent the windshield because some drivers she said, forget to replace a wiper blade until it is doing a job a feather can do.

Deputized Horsewomen Plan 10th Annual Horse Show For Sunday

By JOAN LISETOR

The 4-M Mounted Sheriffs Patrol is sponsoring its 10th annual horse show Sunday at the Novato Horseman's Arena. The show for both Western and English rider will begin at 9 a.m.

Founded in 1946, 4-M is one of the oldest deputized women's groups in California. From out of the past comes the original meaning of their name: Misses and Matrons of Marvelous Marin. Members, who are good natured when fellow horsemen call them "mounted mammas," include business women, homemakers and a professional actress.

When Sheriff David Menary deputized 22 members of the patrol in 1956 they were described as a group of Marin women who were experienced riders and owning and caring for their horses.

Although they were available to the sheriff's office in case of emergency, had Red Cross first aid and civilian defense training and were experienced in rescue in rough terrain where only horse and rider could travel, the patrol's emphasis was a social one. Costume parties, square dances and dessert cart parties were among their projects.

Currently, as members of the California State Horseman's Association, they are concerned with young riders. They are enlarging a program of scholarship awards and are spearheading a drive to encourage young horse owners to learn more about the care and handling of their mounts. Clinics will be held throughout Marin, Sonoma, Napa, Contra Costa, Solano and Mendocino Counties.

As the 4-Ms enter their 25th year emphasis on contributing grows. Members maintain equestrian trails and aid conservation projects.

The plight of the horse has not been forgotten as funds are raised to finance medical research of the horse's health.

In the last decade the horse population in the U.S. has doubled, according to a U.S. Department of Agriculture report, which predicts it will double again in the next 10 years.

In the event of rain, Sunday, the horseshow will be held April 5.

THE OFFICE of John Mack Carter, editor-in-chief of the Ladies' Home Journal, seated on desk, was invaded Wednesday by more than 100 feminists who demanded his resignation and other concessions by the magazine. Also in the Manhattan office was Lenore Hershey, one of the magazine's managing editors, sitting in the chair behind the desk. Carter said he would not resign but agreed to allow the group to create a special women's liberation supplement for a future issue. (AP Wirephoto)

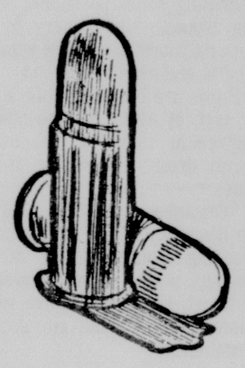

Feminists Invade Magazine Office

NEW YORK (AP) - For 87 years the Ladies' Home Journal has been advising "Never Underestimate the Power of a Woman." Now 100 feminists have demanded that editor John Mack Carter live by the motto.

All day Wednesday, Carter's fifth-floor office was besieged by women demanding that Carter be replaced by a woman that he hire an all-woman editorial and advertising staff and that he allow them to put out "The Women's Liberated Journal" as a replacement for one issue of the magazine.

Carter said—as the women smoked his cigars, sat in his chair and berated him — that they had a point, but they could not have his job.

THE WOMEN said they had singled out the Journal, which has 6.9 million readers, because its articles were "irrelevant, unstimulating and demeaning to the women of America."

They brought along a dummy cover for their women's liberation issue and several ideas for stories such as "Prostitution and the Law" and "Can Marriage Survive Women's Liberation."

After the initial five-hour demonstration, 12 feminists began negotiating with Carter and several other editors while the rest of the women watched and waited outside.

In the early evening it was announced that the group had been offered a special eight-page supplement in an upcoming issue and a special women's liberation column each month.

They then went back into closed-door sessions. The demonstrators had vowed to stay "until all our demands are met."

Some women employes at Newsweek filed a federal complaint against that magazine last week, charging that they wwre discriminated against. They said there was only one woman on a writing staff of 50 men.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

If He's The Only One Is It Better To Have Half Then None?

DEAR HELEN:

He isn't much good, but he's all I've got and, at my age, it's doubtful if I could replace him.

The problem is, I only have him half the time. He has another woman friend too and he isn't about to marry either of us. One week he spends with me, the next with her.

He's a braggart and an oaf, but sometimes I love him in spite of myself. However, this romance is going nowhere. Should I settle for what he offers, or — ???

DEAR ???

If you think half an oaf if better than none — settle.

Personally, I'd prefer ??! — H.

DEAR HELEN:

My husband is a sales executive. The company sends him to conferences at least twice a year, and on business trips every week. Only once, during the year, are wives invited, and that's to the annual convention. At other times, their presence is discouraged. "They might be a distraction."

So what do we little stay-at-homers do? We mend and clean and iron that special shirt at a moment's notice when our men are suddenly called away. We listen to their tales of glory, and yearn over all those wonderful places they visit, while cheering them on for their accomplishments. We shop for the absolutely terrific suit that will knock the opposition dead, even though our own coats are five years old. And we tuck the kids in bed at night, telling them Daddy will be home soon.

Sometimes we grow a little envious. It's all right to have a conquering hero, but why can't we share a little more of the spoils?

Why couldn't wives go along on a few sales conferences? If big companies would pay even half the wife's expenses, we could manage, and think of the greater stability of the marriage — something all bosses want for their employees. We don't want all, but if our men are away an average of three days a week (as most salesmen are) then shouldn't we have at least four trips with them a year? — SALES REPRESENTATIVE'S STAY-AT-HOME WIFE

DEAR WIFE:

I fear your suggestion (which I approve, being a wife) would fetch anguished screams from management. At the next convention ladies' luncheon, however, you might "throw it into the corporate pond and see if it floats." — H.

DEAR HELEN:

You don't have to answer this It's simply a plea to society for understanding. You see, I am a homosexual. I'm not ashamed, but the world will not accept me and other men and women like me It is terrible to know you must suppress your love, just because you care for someone of the same sex. Love is so very beautiful, yet if it is not heterosexual, it is condemned c even worse, jeered at. So we must hide to avoid shaming our relatives, shocking friends, and hearing cruel jokes aimed at us.

Many people think of a homosexual as a child molester or sissy type. These are generalizations because most of us are decent, and attempt to live in this world like everybody else. We have ordinary jobs, are well liked (as long as we keep our secret), bother no one. Why should we get sneers and persecution because society dictates there is only one "moral" way to love? When will tolerance extend to us? — GAY

DEAR GAY:

GAYEST HOLIDAY

How To Make Purim Sweets

Purim is the gayest of all Jewish holidays and traditionally is celebrated with happiness and feasting. Sunday, Jewish children across the nation will dress in costume and frolic in celebration of the downfall of the villain Haman, as recounted in the Old Testament's "Book of Esther."

Hamantaschen, the traditional Purim sweets, are three-cornered pastries that are thought to resemble Haman's hat. In Italy and other Mediterranean countries, Jews have a legend that Haman's ears were shaped like a donkey's. . .pointed and slightly elongated. Consequently, the hamantaschen served in these countries are called Haman's Ears," and are longer than the pastries served in the United States. In Holland and the Low Countries, small cakes in the shape of a man, studded with nuts and raisins, symbolize Haman.

The hamantaschen served here are always filled with a poppyseed (called "mohn") or a prune filling (which children usually prefer). The pastry can be made with a yeast or cookie dough.

HAMENTASCHEN DOUGH

1 cup vegetable shortening
1½ cups confectioners' sugar
1 egg
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
2½ cups all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
Prune Filling
1 egg, well beaten

Combine shortening and sugar; stir until well blended. Stir in egg and vanilla, then, stir in flour, baking powder and salt. When ingredients are well blended, chill dough for 1 hour. Make filling while dough chills. Roll out on a floured board to ¼-inch thickness. Cut with a cookie cutter into 24 4-inch rounds. Place 1½ tablespoons of the filling on each round.

Turn up the sides of each round at three points to shape a triangle, leaving the center of the cookie open. Pinch points together firmly to keep hamantaschen from opening when baking. Place on ungreased cookie sheets. Brush dough with egg. Bake in a preheated moderate over (375° F.) for 10 to 12 minutes or until lightly browned. Cool on a rack. Sprinkle with confectioners' sugar just before serving.

Makes 24 hamantaschen.

PRUNE FILLINGS

To cook prunes, put equal amounts of prunes and water (1 cup for 1 cup) in a saucepan. Bring to a boil; cover and simmer for 10 minutes if prunes have pits, and for 5 minutes if prunes are pitted. Remove from heat and allow prunes to stand in liquid until ready to use. Drain before using.

SPICY PRUNE FILLING

2 cups mashed cooked California prunes
Juice and grated rind of 1 orange
¼ cup honey
½ teaspoon cinnamon.
¼ teaspoon each nutmeg and cloves

Combine all ingredients and simmer until thick and jamlike. Cool before using.

CRUNCHY PRUNE FILLING

1½ cups mashed cooked California prunes
½ cup finely ground walnuts or almonds
¼ cup dry macaroon crumbs
1 tablespoon grated orange rind

Combine all ingredients and stir until well blended.

PIQUANT PRUNE FILLING

2 cups mashed cooked California prunes
½ cup yellow raisins
Juice and grated rind of 1 lemon.

Women In Pants Reduce Hazards During Surgery

A magazine of the profession notes that the practice of female operating room personnel wearing trousers in surgery is becoming more and more popular. And it endorses this trend.

Pants are believed to be a safer type of attire for the operating room than the traditional scrub dress, claims the magazine.

"Organisms are less likely to be dispersed if the individual is wearing trousers. Best of all, the suit would allow the wearer to bend, stoop and move about more freely without any embarrassment."

Changes in living patterns aren't bothering Eva Stillman, the lingerie designer. She loves the fact that her "lingerie" designs go swimming, and to the beach as coverups.

Pearls Keyed To Fashion Thoughts

But there's a subtle difference.

Last fall, they used masses and masses of pearls. For the warmer weather, this gives way to necklaces of cultured pearls with a lighter touch: airy nests of pearls filling in necklines, single and double strand chockers, small pearls piled high in dramatic dog collars, a single long rope of pearls to accent a slinky silhouette.

The interplay of cultured pearls and fabrics this spring is important. Designers use cultured pearls to blend with, or accent, their fabrics: marvelous prints, slithery crepes, delicate laces—all in clean, fresh-as-a breeze colors — in combinations which take good advantage of the subtle creams, pinks and silvers of pearls.

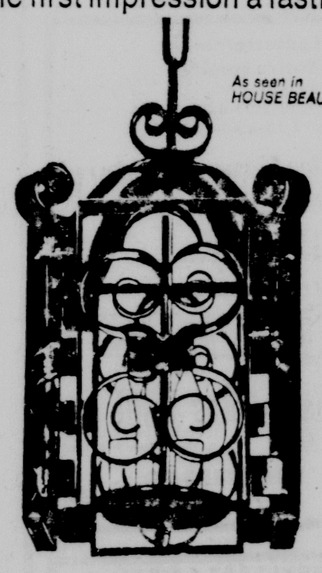

Fringed Scarves

The long fringed scarf goes well with pants or around a sun hat. The square or oblong scarf that ties at the neck gives a costume a western look. For the gypsy-style, scarf goes to the head.

Rep. Brown Links Murphy To Far-Right Movement

Rep. George E. Brown Jr. called Sen. George Murphy the "Senator from Technicolor" yesterday, and said he was a spokesman in the Senate for the far-right views of Pat Frawley, head of Technicolor, Inc.

Brown, Los Angeles Democrat running for the Democratic Senate nomination, told College of Marin students the disclosure that Murphy gets a $20,000 a year consultant fee from Technicolor "goes to the heart of what is wrong with our government today."

"We see him confessing . . . that Technicolor pays half the rent on his Washington apartment so that its lobbyists can sleep there when they come to town.

"We can hardly ignore the fact that we now have a U. S. Senator who is literally in bed with the lobbyists."

Brown, who made seven appearances throughout Marin yesterday, said he intends to make Murphy's connection with Technicolor a major campaign issue.

"I don't suggest we can blame everything going wrong with America these days on the Vietnam War, but it is clear that the same standard of corruption that pervades Saigon now seems to be taking hold in Washington."

Murphy's Technicolor tie-in, Brown said, is not unusual — "The point is . . . the whole system operates this way."

To change the system, Brown said, does not require "a massive crusade . . . You do need a cadre of dedicated people . . . perhaps 1 per cent of the electorate."

If a dedicated 1 per cent can't be found, he said, perhaps there are too few interested people to maintain a democracy, and "we may be moving toward the world's first elected fascism."

Answering questions from the audience of 80 to 100 students, Brown said he is "dedicated to the principle of nonviolent change."

"You must recognize that the holders of power use violence," he said. "If you use violence, you subject yourself to repression and make change more difficult."

He called police attacks on the Black Panthers "part of an illegal conspiracy . . . to eliminate the Black Panthers in the United States, and I will do all in my power to fight it."

He said the Panthers "are not completely without sin," but said that when they violated the law, the police "have used these occasions to come in and kill them."

Brown has opposed the Vietnam War since its inception, but admitted in answering a question that he had voted for the Gulf of Tonkin resolution in 1964. 'I apologize for it," he told the students. ". . . we didn't realize how much we were being lied to.

"Today, I don't believe anything the President tells me, no matter who he is, and very little any other politician tells me."

Brown ticked off his main primary opponent, Rep. John V. Tunney, D-Riverside, on several issues. He said Tunney supported the Vietnam War until polls showed there were no votes in it, voted for the Johnson presidential delegation in 1968, voted against seating Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, voted appropriations for the House Committee on Un-American Activities, and voted for the all-white Mississippi delegation in the credentials fight at the 1968 presidential convention.

Board Refuses To Reschedule Jenner Appeal

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA—The Sonoma County Board of Supervisors yesterday denied the appeal of conservationists for a new date and place for a public hearing on the dredging of the Russian River at Jenner.

The board said the scheduled appeal on March 31 at 4:30 p.m. in the board meeting room would not be changed. Jenner residents and conservationists will appeal the Board of Zoning Adjustments decision to permit Northern California Agreggates Co. to dredge gravel from the river.

Virginia Hechtman of Jenner and Richard E. Day, of Californians Organized to Acquire Access to State Tidelands, asked that the hearing be delayed until April 15 and held at the Santa Rosa High School auditorium which seats 1,100 persons.

Day said they anticipate that nearly 1,500 persons may attend the hearing. The supervisors' chamber seats less than 200.

FAMILY

"80 Steps to Jonah" — Heart warming drama in which a migratory worker innocently connected with a crime seeks refuge in a summer camp for blind children. There he discovers a new purpose in life in helping the handicapped.

"In Search of the Castaways" — Reissue of Disneys' fantasy adapted from a Jules Verne novel about a round-the-world search, for a missing sea captain, by his children. Excellent cast.

"Goodbye, Mr. Chips" — Beautifully mounted musical version of James Hiltons' novel about a lonely schoolmaster who falls in love with a music hall star and her influence on the students and the professor.

"Krakatoa, East of Java" — Adventurous journey of a ship caught in a volcanic eruption and tidal wave when Krakatoa, an island, splits apart. Unforgettable cinerama experience.

"My Side of the Mountain" — A young boy leaves home with plans to live alone close to nature in Canadian wilderness. He finds nature is not dependable and that self sufficiency has its dangerous limitations and that friendship is valuable. Rare treat.

"2001: Space Odyssey" — A long epic adventure that is a fantastic and operwhelming experience. The ending is subject to any interpretation the viewer may put on it.

"Undefeated" — Warm, full bodied post Civil War adventure story about friendships that develop between former adversaries when they must solve common problems and dangers.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid" — True story of two bandits told in farcical tone but documentary in presentation. Film does not deny the violence attendant on their lives and deaths.

"Sterile Cuckoo" — Tale of a first love experience told with insight. A lonely mixed up kooky girl has an affair with her boy friend at college. Since he does not really love her they must make a painful decision. Outstanding performances.

"Tell Them Willie Boy is Here" — A profound allegory of white-Indian history can be found in this deceptively simple story of an Indian, chased and killed by a posse in California, 1909. Unnecessary nudity inserted. Beautiful photography.

"Topaz" — Title is code name for a Russian spy ring operating within the French government. Events are historically true. A valid point about the futility of violence is made.

"Winning" — Complex love story with a vivid auto racing background. Delicately handled study of intrinsic aloneness of human beings. Love scenes are handled with taste and restraint.

BORDERLINE

(Most sources say Adults Only)

"Eye of the Cat" — Weird, terrifying horror film about three young people plotting to convince a wealthy woman to change her will and they then would kill her. Shocking climax.

"Goodbye, Columbus" — Sophisticated, very frank comedy about a summer love affair of a teen-aged Jewish girl. Her characterful families behavior and mannerisms is real and humorous. The young couples dispute over the use of contraceptives is very explicit.

"Magic Christian" — A comedy about the worlds' richest man adopting a vagrant as his son and setting out to prove that anything and anyone can be corrupted by enough money. Wild format, bizarre incidents, nudity and off color language. (Motion Picture Herald Magazine)

"Prime of Miss Jean Brodie" — Superb drama about unethical and uninhibited conduct of a teacher in a private shcool for girls. Film needs thoughtful adult evaluation to uncover the sham of its sick characters.

"They Shoot Horses, Don't They" — Dance marathons of depression years are vividly recreated in this powerful, unusual drama in a study of humanity that is symbolic of life's struggles. Ending is macabre and shocking.

ADULTS ONLY

"Bedazzled" — Sophisticated pungent English satire based on Faust legend leaves few present day situations unscathed. Sequences vary from farcical fun to biting irony, lines that are funny and often boldly irreverent.

"Bob and Carlo and Ted and Alice" — An irreverent social satire, slick in its trimmings, has a sharp bite in it characters, dialogue and frank appraisal of modern marriage and morals. After a week-end of "confrontation therapy" one couple convince their best friends to swap mates. Comedy will seem funny to some, jaundiced to others.

Draft Director Tarr Confirmed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Curtis W. Tarr, a former college president and a one-time draftee, was confirmed by the Senate today as the nation's new Selective Service director.

The Senate acted by voice vote and without any dissent only a day after its Armed Services Committee approved the nomination following a laudatory hearing.

Tarr succeeds Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, who retired Feb. 15 from the post of director he had held almost since the draft was started in 1940.

Kindergarten Pupils Win Kudos In Stamp Design

Two kindergarten students from the Shoreline Unified School District have stamp designs among 200 exhibited at the International Stamp Exhibition Interpex in New York City, according to teacher Dorothea Smith.

They are Roger Hope, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hope of Bodega Bay, and Paulette Miller, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Jerry Miller of Tomales.

Mrs. Smith submitted 34 designs from her two kindergarten classes which were among the 3,500 entered from 30 states. The contest was open from kindergarten to 12th grade, she said.

The two students will receive certificates of recogaition for their part in the youth for art exhibit, cosponsored by the international stamp exhibition and the Crayon, Water Color and Craft Institute, in cooperation with School Arts Magazine.

Stiff Policy On Mercury

Stiffer state regulations on the use of mercury compounds for treating seed grain will be strictly enforced in Marin, county agricultural commissioner R. Allan Ballard said today.

He said human illness has been traced to consumption of pork from swine fed on mercury treated seed, and livestock and wildlife have been found with mercury in their flesh.

No one may now use mercury compounds for treating seed nor may anyone plant mercury treated grain in California without a permit.

"This regulation was adopted on an emergency basis to take effect immediately," said Ballard. "As a result, it affects seed already treated and soon to be planted."

THIRD SECTION SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA, FRIDAY, MARCH 20, 1970 19

DREAMS TURN NIGHTMARE

River Gnawing Petaluma Homesites

By BONNIE BARD

The subdivision in the northwest section of the city along the north banks of the Petaluma River began with the best of intentions in 1960, but has meant financial disaster for the developer and headaches for both the homeowners and city.

Years of negotiation, arguments shifting blame, and lawsuits have involved the developer, homeowners, city, Sonoma County Water Agency and the Army Corps of Engineers, but has failed to solve the erosion problem which places a dozen homes in danger of falling into the river.

Homeowners like Leon Bohling of 11 Rocca Drive, Sidney Krogstad of 15 Rocca and Robert Phillips of 23 Rocca, point an accusing finger at a five-foot-wide drain pipe that empties into the stream immediately north of their homes.

The strong force combined with natural erosion by the river has reduced rear yards to three feet in most cases. Some like Krogstad have filled in their yards as the riverbank fill drops away, but only to force the current across the channel to ruin another yard.

The drain pipe, which channels rain waters from the Cherry Valley section, runs through Bohling's property. "My garage is about to collapse," he said, pointing to the crumbling foundation.

Bohling contends that the city, in requiring costly drainage improvements, forced the developer, Del Mar Builders of Los Angeles, into bankruptsy.

The problem became apparent in the winter of 1961 when the erosive action was first noticed. Because the developer could no longer afford to make improvements the city required, a lawsuit was filed by the city on behalf of the homeowners. A settlement of $85,000 was made, from which an improvement fund netted $64,000.

With no further legal recourse available, the homeowners have looked to the city to find a solution—either to solve the problem or move the homes before they collapse.

City Engineer David A. Young said that to solve the problem completely would require the involvement of the Army Corps of Engineers, and a great deal of money and time.

"I don't know where the money would come from," Young said. "The problem is mostly caused by the erosive action of the river, but there are many contributing factors including the drain pipe."

Largely in accord, the homeowners have asked the city to assist them in moving the houses. "We talked about this possibility at length a few years ago, but everytime we came up with possible new sites there was always some problem," Bohling said.

The difficulty of moving the homes over a bridge on Payran street cancelled out some potential lots, as did zoning restrictions.

Only Phillips, who now lives in San Francisco, hopes one day to live in his home on Rocca Drive. "These are very attractive, well built homes and it's a shame to see them destroyed," he said.

The stucco homes include either three or four bedrooms. Homes in other sections of the subdivision away from the river selling for $22,000 to $24,000.

"In the first summer we had a lovely stream, ducks, and I pictured a canoe at a dock on the river," Bohling said. "Little did we realize what the winter would bring."

How much more rain the shaky foundations can stand is a matter of specualtion, but the homeowners hope for some corrective action soon, a hope they have long held.

Funds Asked For TV Tape Equipment

Supt. Dean D. Magowan said the equipment was demonstrated for the board to show the value of taping classroom presentations to refine teaching techniques.

Magowan said the cost of the equipment would be $2,600 and would supplement equipment already in use in the district. The application also requests funds for materials and projectors for science classes.

The Old Adobe School District board also:

SCIENCE—Agreed to the request of the chemistry department of Sonoma State College to have district teachers participate in a program next year to develop new techniques in teaching science in the primary grades.

AGREEMENT—Discussed a proposed agreement with the City of Petaluma to share costs in developing park sites adjacent to schools. Details will be worked out later, Magowan said.

Painting Exhibit

Acrylic paintings by Barbara Levy and Margaret McIlroy, both of Belvedere, are being exhibited at the Sight and Insight Gallery at the Cannery, 2801 Leavenworth Street, San Francisco, through March 31.

Span Board's Secret Panel Bared Amid Hostile Words

Attempts by an Independent-Journal reporter to learn the purpose of the committee, when it was appointed, and who was on it, were met by its chairman's declaration that "it's none of your goddam business."

The chairman, Ben K. Lerer of San Francisco, told the reporter to "get your ass out of here" when the reporter pressed to learn the purpose of the meeting.

The state's antisecret meeting law, the Ralph M. Brown Act, provides that closed sessions may be held only to hire, fire or hear charges against an officer or employee.

The first indiciation that the committee even existed came at the noon adjournment yesterday of the district's joint transportation and finance-auditing committee. Lerer said "my committee" would meet immediately in another room.

He told the I-J reporter to "look at the minutes" if he wanted to know details about the committee. The reporter pointed out that he had attended every district meeting, and that creation of Lerer's committee never was mentioned.

Board president William Moskovitz of San Francisco interjected that he had appointed the committee at a recent closed meeting. He acknowledged that his action never was reported publicly after the closed session.

The Brown Act bars closed meetings by public bodies to create such committees, and requires public bodies to report publicly decisions made in closed session.

When the I-J reporter insisted on the public's right to know why the committee was created and why it was meeting in closed session, Lerer started to poke the reporter forcefully, saying, "I ought to throw you out myself on your ass."

Lerer then went to get a bridge officer to have the reporter ejected.

But as Lerer returned with the officer, Moskovitz again interjected, saying that the meeting was "regarding employment of someone by the district."

Though Moskovitz's statement shed no light on why Lerer was reluctant to explain the committee's creation and the purpose of the closed session, the statement did meet the requirements of the Brown Act, and the reporter left the room.

The closed session ended 25 minutes later, Lerer emerging to tell newsmen that his "executive committee" would meet in a closed session with the full board next Friday to make its report. He refused to say what the subject of the report was, or whether the committee had made any recommendations.

"I can't make any statement as to the contents of the meeting," Lerer said.

Moskovitz said other members of the committee, besides himself and Lerer, were Joseph E. Sheeks of Belvedere, Stephan C. Leonoudakis and John E. Dearman of San Francisco, and Lowell Edington of Napa County.

Bad Checks Denied

Daniel Leo O'Brien of 226 McAllister Avenue, Kentfield yesterday pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court to charges of writing three bad checks during February. A preliminary hearing was set for April 7.

Teachers' Union Chief To Jail

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — American Federation of Teachers President David Selden began serving a 60-day jail sentence today for his part in the recent Newark teachers strike.

"I am going to jail to dramatize the absurd situation teachers and other public employes find themselves in when it comes to collective bargaining," Selden said.

He made his comment Thursday just before turning himself in to serve the sentence given him for violating a court order against the strike, which lasted 23 days.

Selden called on labor to use his jail term "to carry out a state-by-state campaign to restrict authority of judges to issue injunctions in public employe labor disputes." He said injunctions should only be issued in "only those cases which constitute a clear and present danger to public safety."

Low Bid Given For Petaluma Police Station

Low bidder was Swallow Construction Co. of Petaluma at $41,100. Architects Lieb and Quaresma had estimated the cost at $45,000.

Police Chief Larry D. Higgins said that the low bid may allow alternates such as air conditioning, painting and new roofing on the older section of the building to be included. The cost will be financed by $45,000 in bonds approved by voters in June 1969.

The contract will be awarded at a special meeting of the city council Monday at 7:30 p.m.

Cut-Rate Bridge Toll Urged For Car Pools

A special $5 Golden Gate Bridge commute book for car pools was suggested yesterday by Gen. Mgr. Dale W. Luehring.

Luehring suggested it be limited to cars carrying three or more adults, good only on weekdays between 6 and 10 a.m. and 3 and 7 p.m., and good only in certain lanes.

Some congestion may result because of the additional time needed to count passengers, he said, but reduced car traffic could more than offset the difference.

"Car pools have not been too successful in the past," he conceded, but with growing concern over congestion and air pollution "it may well be that the public will now react favorably."

His suggestion was made to the joint transportation and finance-auditing committee, which set a hearing on it at 9:30 a.m. Thursday in toll plaza offices. Luehring said the car pool program could be started by May 1.

The joint committee also:

CITIZENS — Endorsed a list of committee chairmen of a citizens advisory panel formed to guide the district's transit planning, but on condition that each citizens group have only one representative and that Sonoma and Napa counties be represented. The League of Women Voters of Central Marin complained that the Golden Gate Commuters Club had several members, giving it an unfair voice.

COSTS — Received, but took no action on a proposed mathematical formula for allocating to Marin County Transit District the cost of a commuter bus system that would also provide intracounty service. The formula was based on the number of intracounty passengers.

Suspect Nabbed On Shoplifting

A 26-year-old Berkeley woman was booked into Marin County Jail yesterday on suspicion of grand theft and burglary after a guard at the Emporium in the Northgate Shopping Center, found her with five stolen dresses, police reported today.

Elizabeth Monica Reilly was freed on $2,500 bail to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

The woman was spotted by the guard removing four dresses from a rack at 5 p.m., according to police. When she returned only one garment, the guard followed her to her car where he found three dresses valued at $230 taken from the Emporium and two other cocktail dresses valued at $180 possibly stolen from H. Liebes at Northgate, police siad.

The first unemployment insurance plan in the United States was adopted by a trade union in 1831.

'69 BUICK SKYLARKS $2795

These low mileage factory cars look so new and clean — you'd think they were brand new but they actually have been driven from 7,000 to 14,000 miles.

These almost new little Skylarks still carry the G.M. new car warranty and the purchaser will be registered to receive the balance of the 50,000 mile, 5-year warranty.

Panel Eyeing Strict Coast Logging Rules

SANTA CRUZ (AP) — The Redwood Forest Practices Committee put up for consideration Thursday strict new rules for logging in the coastal redwood counties.

The committee, advisory to the State Division of Forestry, is dedicated to the prevention of poor timbering which in the past has led to erosion, fire hazards and overcutting.

Among new rules suggested was a limit of cutting to 60 per cent of larger trees in any forest. One proposal could forbid cutting more than once in 10 years in a given tract.

Rules also were proposed to control construction of timber road disposal of logging debris and pollution of streams.

Some timber operators present were upset over suggested controls over the width of timber roads and the permissible degree of slope on which they are built.

The proposed new rules of the committee, composed of private citizens, were promulgated in response to desires for stricter controls on logging in the counties from Marin to Monterey.

A.H. Merrill of Arcata, president of the group, said no action would be taken on Thursday's proposals without comments from all sides being taken into account. The group's next meeting is in Redwood City April 2.

Merrill earlier this month said yesterday's hearing was prompted by a meeting of the committee Feb. 9, at which Joseph A. Forest, Marin county deputy counsel, charged that the rules lacked teeth and were "woefully inadequate."

Forest said that since rules must be approved by two-thirds of the private timber owners within the district, the result is "one of the most outrages charades promulgated by any industry in the country.

Motel's Owner Is Strong-Armed

Two men dressed in dark clothing and estimated to be about 25 years old robbed the owner of a Corte Madera Motel of between $50 and $80 early this morning.

According to Corte Madera police, Axle R. Larson, the owner and manager of the Meadowsweet Motel, reported two men at 12:40 a.m. knocked on his door and requested a room.

Larson reported that once they entered the office he was grabbed and his life threatened if he didn't give up his money. Larson told the police he did not know the exact amount taken.

Former KRON Newscaster Hits Station's Criteria

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A former newscaster for television station KRON-TV told a Federal Communications Commission hearing Thursday he felt "journalistic criteria came second and business criteria first" at the station.

The witness, Ed Fleming, now a stock broker, testified during the third day of hearings into renewal of the license for KRON-TV and radio station KRON-FM. Both stations are owned by the San Francisco Chronicle.

Fleming told FCC Hearing Officer Chester F. Naumowicz Jr. he protested lack of coverage of rumors of the impending Chronicle-San Francisco Examiner merger in September, 1965, but was told it would not be covered.

Meanwhile, the issue of a diary kept by former KRON cameraman Albert Kihn of Mill Valley did not come into clear focus, despite a ruling by Naumowicz.

Kihn referred to the diary extensively during three days of direct and cross-examination to refresh his memory on news events which he accused KRON of distorting. It was also the basis of complaints filed with the FCC.

Attorneys for the Chronicle wanted the complete diary placed into evidence but Kihn's attorney, Charles Coine Moore, objected to the diary's introduction.

The hearing officer ruled that the diary would be admitted for identification, would be protected from public viewing, and that pertinent extracts could be used by both sides.

KRON attorney Robert Heald of Washington, D.C., argued that the diary was the only means by which he could show inaccuracies and contradictions in Kihn's testimony, that its admission was necessary to impeach Kihn's impartiality, and that it bore on the accuracy of his recollections.

Moore, who also brought out that he is being paid $1 by Kihn for his legal services, argued that much of the diary was irrelevant, immaterial, incompetant and heresay evidence.

Heald's cross - examination brought out that Kihn made tape recordings of discussions with several members of the KRON staff on the subject of broadcast journalism.

Pickup Stolen

A white half-ton Ford pickup truck, license number P 18236, was stolen between 3 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. Sunday from Raymond E. Arata, 737 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael, while parked in front of his motel room, police have reported.

NOTICE OF FILING APPLICATION FOR INCREASES AND DECREASES FOR INTRASTATE TELEPHONE RATES

The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company on March 17, 1970 filed with the Public Utilities Commission of the State of California an application, numbered 51774, for authority to increase and decrease certain intrastate rates and charges applicable to telephone service furnished within the State of California. In general terms, the proposed increases and decreases are as follows:

Exchanges in the San Francisco-East Bay, Sacramento, Los Angeles, San Diego and Orange County extended areas would receive increases resulting from the application of uniform sets of basic exchange rates for residence and business service. The increases would generally be in the range of about $1.85 per main residence telephone and $3.80 per main business telephone.

For exchanges located outside of the San Francisco-East Bay, Sacramento, Los Angeles, San Diego and Orange County extended areas, increases in basic exchange residence and business rates would depend upon the size of the exchange and whether or not extended area service is offered in the exchange. These increases would be generally about $1.85 per main residence telephone and would range from $3.80 to $6.30 per main business telephone.

Residence Foreign Exchange Service basic rates, Airport Intercommunicating Service rates, and Centrex Service rates would be increased.

Key Equipment Services rates and charges would be increased for certain MKC, DIAL PAK, and Business Interphone Services.

PBX Services and Dispatching System Service rates and charges would be increased.

Service Connection, Move and Change, and In Place Connection Charges would be increased. These increases would range from $1.00 to $3.00.

The Company's proposed rates would become effective in various California counties and municipal corporations, including the County of Marin and the Cities of Belvedere, Corte Madera, Fairfax, Larkspur, Ross, San Anselmo, San Rafael, and Sausalito and Tiburon, upon grant of authority therefor by the California Public Utilities Commission. The State of California and the counties and municipal corporations which may be interested in the application may obtain a copy thereof from the Applicant upon request to:

G.L. Turretto, Assistant Vice President,
The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company,
140 New Montgomery Street, Room 1626,
San Francisco, California 94105.

A copy of the application may be inspected by any interested person in the office of The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company at 1800 - 2nd Street, San Rafael, California 94901, and in the offices of the Public Utilities Commission of the State of California, Fifth Floor, State Building, Civic Center, San Francisco, California, and State Building, 107 South Broadway, Los Angeles, California.

SUMMONS
No. 55738

In the Superior Court of the State of California in and for the County of Marin

NORTHWESTERN PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY, a corporation, Plaintiff, vs.
ANNA T. C. RUE; AND ALL OTHER PERSONS UNKNOWN claiming any right, title, estate, lien or interest in the real property described in the Complaint adverse to plaintiff's ownership, or any cloud upon plaintiffs's title thereto, Defendants.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA to ANNA T. C. RUE AND ALL OTHER PERSONS UNKNOWN claiming any right, title, estate, lien or interest in the real property described in the Complaint adverse to plaintiff's ownership, or any cloud upon plaintiff's title thereto, defendants, GREETING:

You are directed to file with the Clerk of this Court a written pleading in response to the Complaint in an action brought against you by the above-named plaintiff in the Superior Court of the State of California for the County of Marin within ten days after the service on you of this Summons, if served within the County of Marin, or within thirty days if served elsewhere, and to set forth what interest, estate, right, claim or lien, if any, you have in, to or upon that certain real property, or any part thereof, situated in the County of Marin, State of California, and particularly described as follows, to wit:

All that certain 30 foot wide strip of land situate in Tide Land Lot 287, Section 34 Township 1 North, Range 6 West, M.D.B. & M., County of Marin, State of California, being all of the land described in that certain indenture dated December 28, 1916 from Susanna Throckmorton to Northwestern Pacific Railroad Company and recorded on January 11, 1917 in Book 184 of Deeds at page 427, records of said county and lying northeasterly of and contiguous to the following described line:

Beginning at a point in the easterly line of the land described in that certain indenture dated January 27, 1883 from S. R. Throckmorton to the North Pacific Coast Railroad Company and recorded February 13, 1883 in Book "Y" of Deeds at page 120, records of said county, said point being 30 feet northeasterly, measured at right angles, from the original located center line of Northwestern Pacific Railroad Company's (formerly North Pacific Coast Railroad Company's) main track (Sausalito to San Rafael) at Engineer Station 161 + 21.0; thence southerly along said easterly line, 500 feet to the point of termination.

The side lines of the above described 30 foot wide strip of land terminate in a line drawn at right angles from said original located center line and passing through said point of beginning and in a line drawn radially from said original located center line and passing through said point of termination.

YOU ARE HEREBY NOTIFIED that unless you file a written responsive pleading to the Complaint as above required, the plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in the Complaint, to wit: (1) that all adverse claims to and all clouds upon the title to the real property hereinbefore described be determined; (2) that it be determined and adjudged by the Court that the plaintiff has good title to and is the owner in fee simple absolute of all of the real property hereinbefore described and that the defendants and each of them have no right, title, estate, lien or interest in, upon or to said real property, or any part thereof; (3) that the defendants and each of them be forever barred, enjoined and restrained from asserting any right, title, estate, claim, lien or interest whatsoever in, upon or to the real property hereinbefore described, or any part thereof, adverse to plaintiff; and (4) for plaintiffs' costs of action herein and for such other, further or different relief as the Court shall deem just and proper in the premises.

The object of said action is to determine all adverse claims to and all clouds upon the title to the real property hereinbefore described. In said Complaint, plaintiff alleges that by itself and its predecessors in interest plaintiff has been in the actual, exclusive and adverse possession of all of said real property continuously for more than 20 years prior to the filing of said Complaint, claiming to own the same in fee against the whole world and to have paid all taxes of every kind levied or assessed against the property and which were payable during the period of 10 years continuously next preceding the filing of the Complaint.

Hearing Opens Into PG&E Plea To Hike Rates

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Testimony has begun on a request by Pacific Gas & Electric Co. for a $20.6 million gas rate increase.

A report by the State Public Utility Commission staff said the increases are justified by the company's need to offset rate boosts by its gas suppliers and losses caused by a change in the federal tax laws.

The company proposed that $13.2 million of the increase be paid by general service customers, $614,000 by prime industrial users, $4.6 million by other industrial users and $2.2 million by others, including itself.

The increase for residential and prime industrial would be 5.2 per cent.

Correct Spelling

INCOME TAX FACTS

By PETER J. WIKEL

How To Make Deductions For Care Of Your Child

You can deduct up to $600 for the care of your child, or $900 for two or more children if it is necessary to enable you to work.

You can deduct this only if it is for the care of a dependent child under 13 years of age; or for the care of any other dependent for whom you are entitled to an exemption who is mentally or physically incapable of caring for himself.

The expense must be paid and it cannot be paid to an individual for whom you claim a dependency exemption.

You can only make this deduction provided the cost is for you to earn a living or enable you to look for work.

If you work only part of the day and pay for child care for all the day, you can deduct only the part that corresponds to the time you were working.

OTHER THAN CARE

If the person you pay does work other than child care, such as house cleaning, the deduction is allowed only for the child care part.

The deduction is allowed to women and to widowers. Widowers include men who are divorced or legally separated and have not remarried. It is also allowed to husbands of incapacitated or institutionalized wives while the wife is disabled. This deduction is allowed only if the wife if mentally or physically incapacitated or institutionalized for a period of 90 consecutive days unless the period is terminated by her death.

JOINT RETURN

A married man or woman can deduct their child care expenses only if they file a joint return and together earn less than $6,000 per year.

If they earn over $6,000 per year, the deduction is reduced by the amount earned over the $6,000. This does not apply if the husband is incapable of self-support because he is mentally or physically defective and it does not apply if the wife is incapacitated and institutionalized.

If you qualify, then get Form 2441 and complete it fully. Attach this Form 2441 to your tax return and claim the deduction on Schedule A line 16, Miscellaneous Deductions.

Novatan Will Teach Real Estate Course

A new 10-week real estate course, "Real Estate Investments and Exchanges," will be offered by the College of Marin starting at 7:30 p.m. April 1 at San Rafael High School with F. James Picchi, Novato real estate broker as instructor.

Picchi has taught similar courses for the California Real Estate Association for the past three years. He is scheduled to teach a course for the National Institute of Real Estate Brokers in Chicago in August.

Wall Street Sags Near Closing Bell

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market sagged broadly late this afternoon in unusually slow trading. The light volume was attributed to the spreading postal strike.

The New York Stock Exchange said it expected to have an announcement later today indicating whether it would operate on Monday.

Securities industry leaders said brokerage houses had been badly hurt by the strike. The letter carrier's union has threatened a nationwide strike Monday unless Congress promises to act to raise postal workers' pay before the Easter recess.

Glamor issues were generally lower after being mixed earlier. Prices of glamor issues included Memorex, off 6¼ at 120¼; Mohawk Date Sciences, off 4½ at 56½; Telex, off ¾ at 116¾; IBM, off 2⅛ at 320¼; Avon, off 1¾ at 160½; and Burroughs, off 1¾ at 135⅞.

Among the most-active issues was Bristol-Meyers, off 4 at 59½.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Worldwide Activities Aid Dillingham's Big Growth

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q—I am going to inherit a lot of Dillingham stock and know only that it is a Honolulu concern. Could you enlighten me?—P.P.

A—Dillingham is indeed a Hawaiian-based company although about half of its revenues are derived elsewhere. The company is engaged in construction, and development, ocean-related activities, LP gas distribution and ready-mix concrete operations.

Worldwide construction activities account for 55 per cent of sales but only 10 per cent of profits. Towing, dredging, shipping and other ocean-oriented work contribute one-fourth of Dillingham's income but a smaller proportion of sales. A 60 per cent owned refinery to be built in conjunction with Continental Oil will expand its petroleum interests substantially.

Dillingham has two contracts worth $56 million in U. S. dollars to build a power plant and a town in Australia. Athough the company has been penalized by the high cost of money, 1969 results were running about 30 per cent ahead of the previous year and full year earnings should reach $1.20 a share.

Q—I am interested in purchasing Treasury bills. Do you still think these are a good buy?—F.S.

A—Unless you are prepared to invest at lease $10,000 you will have to look elsewhere. The minimum denomination was raised from $1,000 to $10,000 following the last auction in February. Interest rates have been dropping since early in the year primarily as a result of demand created by public participation in this investment vehicle. With this demand substantially dried-up and a sizable increase ($100 million) in the amount of 13-week bills offered at the weekly auction, some weakness was apparent in this sector. In any event the interest rate—approximately 6.8 per cent—now available is not much higher than that obtainable in term or certificate deposits. The average investor will no longer find Treasury bills sufficiently attractive to be worthwhile.

Cerrudo Shares Lead In Golf Tourney

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—The young Californians are making hay on Florida golf courses, and Ron Cerrudo pointed it out after shooting 68 Thursday to share the first-round lead in the $100,000 Greater Jacksonville Open with veteran Dan January.

"How about the Californians?" Cerrudo asked. "Three out of four; that's not bad."

Cerrudo, a former San Rafael resident, now lives in Napa. Two other northern California golf products, Dick Lotz of Graegle and Bob Lunn or Sacramento, won top prizes the past two weeks at Pensocola and Orlando.

Cerrudo, typical of the confident young man on his way to the top, won at San Antonio and could be predicting a double although he didn't go that far with three rounds yet to play on the tough 6,843-yard Hidden Hills course.

The 25-year-old in his mod striped slacks, conquered the twin hazards of wind and sand fleas as well as a high powered field of top pros through the first round.

'I'll take the wind over the bugs," Cerrudo said. "I scratched half the night from those bugs in Wednesday's pro-am."

A breeze that threatened to bring on rain, but never did, drove the sand fleas away. The wind brought complaints from some pros, but home pro Dan Sikes—who had a 71—said they will really have something to complain about if strong winds sweep across the rolling fairways and undulating greens.

He predicts a 10-under-par 274 or possibly higher will be good enough to win the $20,000 first prize Sunday.

January, 40-year-old veteran who hasn't won since the PGA tourney of 1967, was the only tourist able to match Cerrudo's opening 68.

He used only 12 putts from the 10th through 18th holes which he played in 31 strokes.

Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus were among 10 pros at 70. National Amateur Champion Steve Melnyk of Jacksonville joined 13 pros at 71, making a total of 33 players better than par 72.

Giants For Real On Redwood Team

Redwood High School's baseball team really lives up to its nickname, the "Giants," with what Coach Al Endriss calls "The largest high school pitching staff in the country."

The Giant hurlers are Tom Wickert, 6 feet 4 inches, 240 pounds; Ross Gondack, 6-5, 230; Jim LaTorre, 6-3, 215; Jeff Nedd, 6-4, 220; Roger Smith, 6-2, 180; PILHN Moresco, 6-2, 190.

Things are looking up for Redwood.

Redwood's team, by the way, will make a southern swing next week, playing six games in Fresno and Santa Cruz tournaments. "We like to test our kids on the road," said Endriss. "The (S.F.) Giants go to Japan, we go to Fresno and Santa Cruz. We feel these trips are good for our school. you know, all that long-hair publicity gets around and our athletic teams are always sharp. Gives people a good impression."

A Fine Recipe For Carp

FISH AND GAME columnist Al Giddings discusses carp in today's contribution on page 35, mentioning that those bony critters are edible and considered by many to be a delicacy.

Is that so? Well, here's a carp recipe Giddings ought to try: Take the whole fish, place it on a thick board, bake it for three hours in a 350 degree oven, throw the fish away and eat the board.

WHO ELSE but a fine broth of a bowler named Tim Egan could pick up a 6-7 split twice at San Rafael's Country Club Bowl on St. Patrick's Day? His rivals were green with envy.

DOROTHY E. (TUDIE) BEARWALD, who died Sunday in San Rafael at age 83, was the widow of the late Joe Bearwald whom veteran baseball fans will remember as owner of the old Mission Reds of the Pacific Coast League.

Bearwald sold the Reds to comedian Joe E. Brown in 1937 and they became the Hollywood Stars. He also was instrumental in the construction of Seals Stadium and Golden Gate fields. The Bearwalds' daughter, Maxine (Mrs. William) Wider, resides in San Rafael.

A Letter From Sears Point

EXCERPTS FROM a letter from Steve Castoldi, vice president of Sears Point International Raceway, re Ralph Chatoian's criticism (I-J, March 17) of Sunday's drag races:

"Mr. Chatoian failed to mention that his friend Jim Johnson's eight-year-old son, Jeff, and his own seven-year-old, Rick, were both admitted free of charge. That '$9 per person' divided by four averages to $4.0 per person if my math is correct. This is a full day of drag racing for less money than the same four would spend to see two and one-half hours of pro football (and I'll bet the youngsters were more impressed), a sport with which we can match investment and whose income is very probably a three figure multiple of our own at this. . .time.

"If Mr. Chatoian is really worried about money, I suggest he stick to his comp tickets, the number of which (generously, I think) far exceeds anything offered by a pro football team.

"I can do nothing but apologize for the parking situation by way of reminding the writer of what all of this area already know. It was a rough winter. This fact precluded the use of our major parking areas, a situation which will be virtually non-existant for the remainder of our 1970 schedule."

Two Prep Teams In Trouble

Two Marin County Athletic League baseball teams have been reprimanded and suspended from post-season competition for holding a scrimmage two weeks ago.

The action was taken against Marin Catholic and San Marin high schools at a special league meeting Wednesday, according to league president Frank Stocking, Terra Linda High School prinicpal.

San Marin High, one of the favorites in the league race, and Marin Catholic scrimmaged between themselves two weeks ago. Scrimmages between league schools are not allowed by league rules.

The suspension from post-season play automatically eliminates both teams from participation in the Redwood Tournament of Champions in which the league champion would normally participate.

"The reprimands were directed at the athletic directors and baseball coaches of the schools, not the entire schools or athletic teams of the schools," Stocking said.

Marin Nine Drops Fifth League Game

College of Marin's baseball dog days in the Camino Norte Conference continued yesterday at the Tars dropped their fifth straight loop encounter without a win, this time a 14-2 pounding at the hands of DeAnza of Cupertino, in Kentfield.

The loss dropped the Tars' season win-loss record to 5-9.

It's UCLA Vs. Jacksonville In NCAA Basketball Finals

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — Defending champion UCLA, seeking an unprecedented fourth consecutive title and sixth in seven years, will match its speed and balance Saturday against the height of tourney newcomer Jacksonville University in the finals of the NCAA basketball championship.

Tomorrow's championship NCAA game will be televised by NBC beginning at 1 p.m.

"They have such great balance," said Jacksonville Coach Joe Williams after UCLA demolished New Mexico State 93-77 in the semifinals Thursday night. "There isn't any one on their ball club that is weak, no one you can really play off of.

PLAN

"We're going to try to make some kind of effort to get them out of their pattern," he said. "We can't let them play their game."

UCLA Coach John Wooden, not over-enthused with his club's offensive game against the amazin' Aggies, also had lots of praise for Jacksonville which squeezed past outmanned and foul-plagued St. Bonaventure 91-83 in the other semifinal.

"I would think it would be our speed against their height," Wooden said. "I think we're much quicker but they have those big boys."

One of those boys he was talking about is 7-foot-2 Artis Gilmore, who scored 29 points and grabbed 21 rebounds to lead the Dolphins over a charged-up St. Bonaventure club that played without injured All-American Bob Lanier.

BALANCE

John Vallely, Sidney Wicks and Henry Bibby led second-ranked UCLA with 23, 22 and 19 points, respectively. But the scoring star of the game was amazin' Aggies Jimmy Collins, who pumped in 28 points, most with his deadly jumper.

Wooden said he was pleased with UCLA's over-all performance but "our turnovers displeased me. We made some bad mistakes on defense, but overall we played pretty wll on defense."

The UCLA coach said the three straight national championships won by his Bruins shouldn't give his team a psychological advantage over Jacksonville.

"I don't think so in any way," he said. "A team that gets this far isn't going to get psyched out."

Coach Lou Henson of New Mexico State said fourth-ranked Jacksonville will have to play an outstanding game to beat second-ranked UCLA even with Gilmore, 7-foot Pembroke Burrows III and 6-foot-10 Rod McIntyre.

UCLA'S GAME

"Size doesn't mean a thing," he said. "The game is speed and quickness and that's UCLA's game. UCLA has expertience, too, that should pay off during Saturday's 40 minutes.

"This UCLA team is well balanced and we have faced them three years in a row now," said Henson. "And I think this team (UCLA) may be the equal if not better than the past."

UCLA knocked New Mexico State out of the Western quarter-finals in 1968 and 1969.

Williams said Jacksonville played very poorly against St. Bonaventure and "we all feel badly that we didn't play a better ball game.

"We are in the finals, though," he said, "and that's what counts. As long as we win by one point, I'm happy."

Coach Larry Weise said the Bonnies "played their hearts out."

"I'm very proud of them," he said. "Jacksonville is big and strong and their guards handle the ball very well and the team as a unit shoots well."

Marquette To Meet St. John's In NIT

NEW YORK (AP) — "We come out smoking," said Coach Al McGuire of Marquette . . . and that's how his Warriors kept the heat on Pistol Pete Maravich.

Marquette's fiery defense shot down Louisiana State's one-man basketball show and took a runaway 101-79 victory Thursday night to advance to the finals of the 33rd National Invitation Tournament.

St. John's of New York earlier advanced to the finals with a heart-thumping 60-59 victory over Army before 19,500 hysterical fans at Madison Square Garden.

"Any man can be stopped," said McGuire after Marquette used a variety of defenses to hold Maravich to only 20 points, almost 27 below his game average. "Where is he gonna go with men in front of him and behind him?"

"Teams know we're going to come out smoking," said McGuire. "They know we're going to be on their chest and belly to belly from the start."

GUARDED

There were times Marquette had three men draped over the Pistol . . . and sometimes zone combinations ate him up. Maravich also admitted that a sore left ankle hindered his lateral movement and negated his feared outside jump shot.

"I come down on my left foot with the jump, and I wasn't able to get it off as often in the second half," said Maravich, who only took four shots in that stanza. "But don't get the idea I'm apologizing. I'm not.

"I don't feel bad for myself. I've had my share of good games. But . . . I wanted to win the tourney championship for my father (LSU Coach Press Maravich). That's all down the drain now."

Maravich was held to 20 points only two other times this season—once during the regular season by Tennessee and last Sunday by Georgetown in their opening NIT game.

"I'd rather lose playing our wide-open scoring style than playing ball control. Pete had a bad game, but I don't feel sorry for him. Not for all the great games he's played for me.

"I've never felt sorry for him. He's such a great ballplayer."

Dean Meminger, Marquette's fleet guard, scored a sub-par 16 points, but helped guard Maravich and kept the offense in high gear most of the night with his bullet passes.

Unearned Runs Beat Novato

Six errors in the last three innings let in five unearned runs for Oakland Tech and paved the way for the Novato High School baseball team's sixth loss of the season against one win, a 6-5 verdict at Novato yesterday.

The Hornets, behind the three-hit shutout pitching of sophomore Mike Lamb, had built up a 3-0 lead in the first four innings only see it go down the drain on miscues.

Giants' Game In Tokyo On Television Tonight

TOKYO (AP) — The San Francisco Giants open a nine game exhibition tour of Japan tonight before a sell-out crowd in the 35,000-seat Tokyo Studium, marking the first time a major league baseball team has played here in the spring.

The Giants, whose two previous trips have been in October after the season's end, go against their namesakes, the Tokyo Giants. Game time is 1 p.m. Saturday here, but 7:45 p.m. today for U.S. fans watching a telecast (Channel 2) by satellite.

Temperatures in the 40s, or about 30 degrees under those of the training camp in Phoenix, Ariz., greeted the Giants on arrival Thursday.

Following tonight's opener with the Tokyo Giants, who became Japan's first professional baseball team in 1935, San Francisco plays eight more games, five of them with the Lotte Orions, who are underwriting the trip.

Mill Valley Rec Cagers Triumph

Mill Valley Recreation pounded Sausalito Pharmacy, 62-38, to untangle a tie for first place in Mill Valley Adult Basketball action yesterday.

Both teams had been tied for the lead with 2-0 records.

In other action, the Mill Valley Midgets, behind Dan O'Brien's 22 points, topped the Rejects, 60-50, and Tom Seidenberg scored 22 points to lead Mike's Barber Shop to a 92-44 rout of Sievert's.

Not Warriors Worst Season

CINCINNATI (AP) — One more National Basketball Association victory could assure the San Francisco Warriors of escaping the Western Division cellar, and they will try to get it tonight at Cincinnati.

The Warriors are 29-50 this season. But it will be far from their worst. They lost 63 of 80 games in 1964-65.

Seals To Host Red Wings

OAKLAND (AP) — With fourth place in the west Division now within reach, the Oakland Seals take on the Detroit Red Wings tonight at 8 o'clock in a National Hockey League game at the Oakland Arena.

Following a 2-2 tie with Montreal before 7,575 home fans Wednesday night, the Seals are one point behind fourth-place Minnesota. Each team has nine games remaining.

The Seals are hoping for no more injuries during the nine-game stretch, since frontliners Norm Ferguson, Bob Dillabough and Howie Menard are ailing.

Menard will be out another week because of torn knee ligaments, and Ferguson, recovering from an ankle injury, and Dillabough, recovering from a groin injury, may be available for limited duty tonight.

"The effort was there. We certainly had every chance to win, because of the effort.

"We missed a lot of chances to score, but if we weren't putting out the effort we wouldn't have had the chances in the first place and when you get enough chances, you'll score."

Harrelson Out For Season

MESA, Ariz. (AP) — A broken bone in Ken Harrelson's lower right leg may have sidelined the Cleveland Indians' slugging left fielder for a year, and Manager Alvin Dark says he'll try to trade for another right-handed hitting outfielder.

The manager said the mishap in Thursday's Cleveland-Oakland exhibition game at Mesa would idle Harrelson for at least three months.

SLIDING

He was injured sliding into second in the fourth inning of the game, which the Athletics won 9-0.

"Something like this could bother Kenny for as long as 18 months," Dark said. "But I know he's not finished as a player."

Dark, who has expressed concern in the past over the shortage of right-handed hitters in the line-up, said that left-handed hitting Frank Baker, who seemed to be headed toward the minor leagues, was now the leading candidate to open the season in left field.

PLATOONING

"It also means we'll probably have to do more platooning than I like," Dark said.

He said Harrelson, who was traded to the Indians in April last year after leading the American League with 109 runs-batted-in for the Boston Red Sox in 1968, was "on his way to having a great year . . . I've never seen him look so good in spring training."

The injury occurred after Sims and Harrelson led off the fourth with walks. Max Alvis hit a bouncing ball to third baseman Sal Bando, and Harrelson slid trying to break up the double play.

Porsche Breaks Record

COMBINED AP & UPI

SEBRING, Fla.—A pair of fleet Porsches were favored to win the two front row starting positions for the Sebring 12-hour endurance race during final qualifying trials today. The sleek orange and blue cars, powered by 12-cylinder, 600-horsepower engines, consistently turned the fastest laps during Thursday's first official time trials and headed into today's windup runs with a distinct speed advantage over Mario Andretti's Ferrari 512.

His lap of 2:34.47, or 121.189 m.p.h. over the 5.2-mile, 12-turn circuit broke the old mark of 2:40.19 and 116.861 set by New Zealander Chris Amon last year.

LOS ANGELES—Washington Caps basketball star Rick Barry filed a $35,000 Superior Court suit Thursday against singer Pat Boone, one-time owner of the defunct Oakland Oaks.

FISH AND GAME

By AL GIDDINGS

Beware, The March Winds; Plan Trips For Morning

Those March winds that have been with us this week are making it tough for most of the fishermen. Each year about this time the northwest winds blow almost daily until sometime in July. Usually they start in the afternoon so you might do best to plan your trips for the mornings.

OUTSIDE OF the mouth of Tomales Bay or outside the Golden Gate, or out by the pumphouse on San Pablo Bay can be tough spots if the wind really comes up, so be careful how far you venture.

Tuesday of this week fish and game wardens checked most of the boats off Hamilton Air Firce Base, the pumphouse area and China Camp. Most of the boats did fairly well as almost every boat had some stripers. The wind really came up by noon, blowing up to 30 knots or so. The bay muddied and all the boats headed in, but the morning winds were surprisingly light.

Four citations were issued, two for using two rods and two for fishing without a license.

No sturgeon were checked. The bass were either 10-15 pounds or small fish about 18 inches long. The fish were taken generally on grass shrimp, but I saw one boat land four fish using bullheads. Most of the boats also had some flounders aboard in the fishbox.

TROUTWISE, THERE'S still not much doing in Marin County. Rodeo Lagoon will be stocked again this week, but that's about it. The streams are still closed until May 2 when the general trout season opens.

If you like to travel, Lake Chabot in Alameda County, Upper Blue Lake in Lake County and Lake Ralphine in Santa Rosa were also stocked this week with catchables.

I RECEIVED a call from an angler this week who had been fishing at Nicasio Lake for black bass. He was quite upset about the size of some of the carp that he had noticed spawning in some of the lake shallows. He estimated some of these fish to weigh 20 pounds. He wondered if they were edible.

Yes, carp are edible but extremely bony. The meat has a sweet flavor and is considered a delicacy by some people. Europeans are fond of the fish, either fresh, smoked or canned.

Carp originally came from Asia, but are now found in most parts of the northern hemisphere. They were brought to California in 1872.

Carp are both useful and harmful. They are used for food, but they also destroy the eggs and breeding places of more valuable fish. Fishermen help spread carp by using young carp as live bait.

The carp is a close relative of the gold fish. Large carp can weigh from 30 to 80 pounds. Using doughballs as bait is somewhat successful in catching these fish.

SALMON FISHING out of Sausalito has been generally good. It has been one of the better openings to date. With the winds now here, close checks with the weatherman and calls to either the Sausalito Boat and Tackle Shop or Caruso's, also in Sausalito, will help you decide on a trip or not. At times, it's windy inland but calm on the ocean. The party boat skippers keep the tackle shops pretty well informed of conditions all the time.

LAKE BERRYESSA is producing limits of black bass generally with fish to two pounds or so with an occasional whopper. Now's the time to give it a go before the water warms and the skiers really rile things up.

Terra Linda Golf Victory

Drake High School golfer Tom Schall got medalist honors but it was Terra Linda's consistency which won the day as the Trojans downed the Pirates, 219-225 in a non-league match at Marin Country Club yesterday.

Schall fired a 40, but Les Bysom, Terry Davis and Art Cudworth all had 42s for Terra Linda.

In other golf action, Andy Snare shot a one-under-par 35 to lead Novato to a 204-222 win over Justin of Napa at Indian Valley course in Novato.

Rancho Cotate of Rohnert Park took a 15-0 match play battering at the hands of Healdsburg as the winners' Rick Matteoli fired an even par 70 at Healdsburg Golf and Country Club.

Petaluma lost a 13½-1½ decision to Ukiah at Petaluma Golf and Country Club with John Woods and Chris Gunn getting 84s for the losers.

THE SPORTING GENTRY

Father Time Just Can't Catch 'Ninny'

By RALPH CHATOIAN

He's been full-time head of the Hub City recreation program for the last three years and before that was part-time director, dating back to 1953. He's been involved in sports all his life, as a super-star in high school, a minor league baseball player, coach, referee, and he now keeps hundreds of San Anselmo kids active in sports programs of all kinds.

Long time friends still call him "Ninny," a nickname he has carried most of his life. The word comes from an Italian translation of little, and at 5-foot-7 Ninny was a star among the bigger kids of his youth.

Quinn, now white-haired and in his 60s, is always ready to tell you a story or two. He was born in San Francisco shortly before the 1906 earthquake and fire. His father, at the time, owned a shoe store but it was leveled by the S. F. disaster. The Quinn family, which included Frank's twin brother Art and sister Alma, packed up its belongings and moved to San Anselmo.

Frank went to elementary school in San Anselmo and then to Tamalpais High where he became one of the school's best athletes. He was the first (only two came later) Tam athlete to win the all-star award, going to a boy who competes on three championship teams in one year. In his junior year, he played on league champ teams in baseball, basketball and football. Including track and swimming, he earned five letters that one year. In his senior year, he captained the baseball, football and basketball teams and was student body president.

He attended St. Ignatius College (it's now University of San Francisco) for two years and with a special credential, coached and taught history at St. Vincent's High School in Vallejo. He coached in practically every sport while at St. Vincent's from 1929 to 1931.

Before his teaching and coaching days, he gave professional baseball a whirl, signing a contract with the old San Francisco Missions of the Pacific Coast League. He was farmed out to Klamath Falls, Ore., a minor league team and played during 1928 and part of 1929 before retiring from the sport.

He also did some coaching for the Young Men's Institute team in San Rafael prior to going to St. Vincent's. In 1931 he coached at St. Anselm's (now Marin Catholic and then in 1932 moved on to Tamalpais School for Boys in Mill Valley where he coached for five years.

He began a 15-year coaching career at San Rafael Military Academy in 1938, head coach in basketball and track, and assisting in baseball and football.

"I had some good basketball teams at the academy," said Quinn. "We won nine championships in 14 years. I remember we even beat College of Marin in 1941."

FRANK L. QUINN

During the time he was coaching at the academy, Quinn was working as a mailman in San Anselmo. He would work his fulltime shift with the post office from 6 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. and then high-tail it to the SRMA campus to coach.

Quinn also has had quite a background as a basketball referee, including calling games in the Coast Conference, Far Western Conference, California junior college games and the North Bay Officials Association for high schools. He's worked in games for Air Force and Ali-Service championships in San Diego and Denver.

When he started out as part-time director of recreation in San Anselmo the staff consisted on one—him. Now there are about 20 persons on the staff, including specialists and supervisors.

He was the president and one of the organizers of the San Anselmo youth baseball program in 1952, and it still maintains its separation from National Little League Inc. There is the San Anselmo Midget League for boys 7½ through 9, and San Anselmo Little League for boys 10 to 12.

"We'll have 248 boys in the baseball program this year," Proudly beams the biggest youth sports booster in the Hub City.

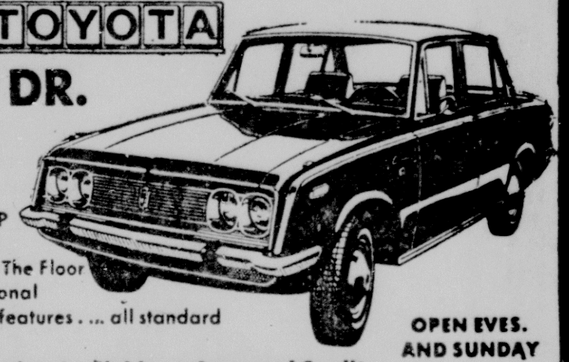

Keeping the profession of coaching in the family, Frank and his wife, Irene, have a son, Michael, baseball coach at San Marin High in Novato. They also have a daughter, Mrs. Laureen Lewgot of Novato, and three grandchildren.

"We had some good football teams at St. Vincent's," he said about coaching days at the little school. "In 1931 we licked Vallejo 25-6 after going through the season undefeated. Vallejo had won the North Bay League championship that year and it was a challenge game. Over 5,000 people watched the game. Man, that was really something."

MICHELIN X

STEEL RADIAL TIRES

ARE GUARANTEED 40,000 MILES OF TREAD WEAR

AND ONLY A MICHELIN-MADE TIRE CAN MAKE THIS STATEMENT

This guarantee is not a local guarantee - but a world-wide coverage backed not only by every Michelin dealer, but by THE MICHELIN TIRE CO. It covers credit, refund or replacement based on the consumer's buying price & proportion of mileage run.

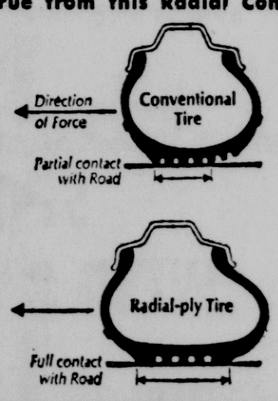

BEWARD: So many companies infer their fiberglas belted tires will wear like this, & infer it's guaranteed that way. The truth is The Goodyear Polyglas tire is not guaranteed for any specific mileage, let alone for 40,000 miles.

Only Michelin X is specifically guaranteed to wear for 40,000 miles - because only Michelin can stand up to the demands of that kind of guarantee.

WHY DOES THE MICHELIN WEAR SO LONG? READ ON!!

HOW ABOUT THE "X"

Many advantages accrue from this Radial Construction. Because of the sidewall flexibility and the wide, rigid steel reinforced tread, the "X" tread always stays flat on the pavement. No scrubbing, squirming, highspeed distortion, or tread lifting. The tread stays on the ground where it belongs for better skid resistance, steering control, braking power and over-all handling, and it stays there at all speeds—even up to 115 MPH! But these important safety features are only a part of the story.

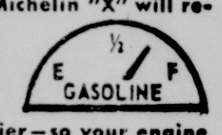

LONG LASTING WEAR

Michelin conservatively guarantees a minimum tread life of 40,000 miles — guaranteed in writing on any car, regardless of driving conditions. The steel belt stabilizes the tread on the pavement, greatly reducing tire wear, and along with lower running temperatures, results in greatly expanded tread life. Many Michelin tires run for 70,000 and 80,000 miles!

A LOWER GAS BILL

It's hard to believe, but the Michelin "X" will reduce your gasoline consumption by as much as 10%. The Radial construction reduces your car's rolling resistance, allowing the car to move easier—so your engine needs less gas to move the vehicle down the road.

EVEN SAFER ON THE BOTTLE

Yes, even when the "X" hits the bottle (or anything else in the road) you're a great deal safer. Chances are that steel shield will never be penetrated, and you can say goodbye to flats forever.

PRICE

And isn't it silly if the price is the same or less — to take a chance on a tire that might give better service than your present tire over a proven product backed by 22 years of proving it? Prices range from $30.00 to $55.00, plus excise tax ranging from $2.11 to $3.41, depending on the size. This may be a little more than you are used to paying, but think of it. A tire that is guaranteed to go 40,000 miles as a minimum, regardless of driving conditions. You probably will never have to buy another tire for your present car. For more details on the MICHELIN X RADIAL TIRE, just call Pat McAlonan at 453-2942 or drive in to any of the Cain Tire stores listed below.
